(2) A Magistrate enquiring into or trying a case may, in his discretion, at any subsequent stage of the proceedings, direct the personal attendance of the defendant, and, if necessary, enforce the attendance in the manner provided in this Act.

24. Notwithstanding the issuing of a summons, a warrant may be issued at any time before or after the time appointed in the summons for the appearance of the defendant.

Warrant when issued.

25. Where the person issued with a summons does not appear at the time and place appointed in and by the summons, and his personal attendance has not been dispensed with under section 23, the Court may issue a warrant to arrest him and cause him to be brought before the Court.

Where summons not obeyed.

26. (1) A warrant of arrest shall be under the hand of a Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace issuing it.

Form, content, duration and execution of warrant.

(2) A warrant of arrest issued under subsection (1) shall-

- (a) state briefly the offence with which the person against whom it is issued is charged;
- (b) name or otherwise describe the person; and
- (c) order the person or persons to whom it is directed to apprehend the person against whom it is issued and bring him before the Court issuing the warrant or before some other Court having jurisdiction in the case or any other Magistrate' Court to answer to the charge mentioned in the warrant and to be further dealt with according to law.

*Form 4
Second
Schedule*

(3) A warrant shall remain in force until cancelled or executed.

(4) The cancellation of a warrant may be effected by the Court issuing it, or by a Court to which the issuing Court is subordinate.

(5) When a warrant of arrest is directed to more than one officer or person, it may be executed by all or by any one or more of them.

(6) A warrant may be executed by the arrest of the defendant at any place in Sierra Leone.

Removal and bail.

27. Where a warrant of arrest is executed outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the warrant, the person arrested shall, unless the Court which issued the warrant is within 20 miles of the place of arrest or is nearer than the Court within whose jurisdiction the arrest was made, be taken before the last-mentioned Court which shall deal with him in the same way as if brought before it under section 35.

Court may direct security to be taken.

28. (1) A Court issuing a warrant for the arrest of a person in respect of an offence not punishable by a sentence of life imprisonment shall, unless the complainant or prosecutor proffers good and sufficient reasons in an affidavit, why bail should not be granted, direct by endorsement on the warrant that, if the person enters into recognisance with sufficient sureties for his attendance before the Court at a specified time and after that until otherwise directed by the Court, the officer to whom the warrant is directed shall take such security and shall release the person from custody.

(2) An endorsement under subsection (1), shall include-

- (a) the number of sureties;
- (b) the amount to which the sureties and the person for whose arrest the warrant is issued are to be respectively bound;
- (c) the Court before which the person arrested is to attend; and

(d) the time at which he is to attend before the Court including an undertaking to appear at such subsequent times as may be directed by the Court.

(3) Where an endorsement is made, the officer in charge of a police station to which, on arrest, the person named in the warrant is brought, shall release him upon his entering into such recognisance with or without sureties approved by that officer in accordance with an endorsement conditioned for his appearance before the Court and at the time and place named in the recognisance.

(4) Whenever security is taken under this section, the officer to whom the warrant is directed shall forward the recognisance to the Court.

29. (1) Subject to section 31, a Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace who is satisfied by information on oath that there is reasonable ground for believing that there is in a building, vessel, vehicle, receptacle or place anything upon or in respect of which - warrant.

Issuance

- (a) an offence has been committed or is suspected to have been committed;
- (b) will afford evidence as to the commission of an offence, may at any time issue a warrant under his hand authorising a Police Officer or other person named in the warrant to enter the building, vessel, vehicle, receptacle or place, if necessary by force and to search it and every person found in it and if anything searched for is found, to seize it and arrest the occupier or owner of the building, vessel, vehicle, receptacle or place if the Magistrate or Justice of the Peace thinks fit so to direct.

(2) Where a building, vessel, vehicle, receptacle or other place is closed, a person residing in or being in charge of the building, vessel, vehicle, receptacle or place shall, on demand of the Police Officer or other person executing the search warrant, allow him free entry into it and afford all reasonable facilities for a search in it.

(3) Where entry into a building, vessel, vehicle, receptacle or other place cannot be so obtained, the Police Officer or other person executing the search warrant may, if the warrant empowers him to do so, enter forcibly, or break-open the building, vessel, vehicle, receptacle or other place.

(4) A search warrant shall be executed by the Police Officer or other person who shall have charge thereof; and he may be accompanied by any other persons necessary to assist him.

(5) A search warrant shall ordinarily be executed between the hours of 5 o'clock in the morning and 10 o'clock at night, but a Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace issuing it may by an order endorsed on it, give authority for its execution at any other time.

Search without warrant in cases where articles are being conveyed, etc.

30. A Police Officer may -

- (a) detain a person carrying or conveying along a square, street, highway, quay, avenue or other public place an animal, matter or thing which -
 - (i) the Police Officer suspects of having been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained; or
 - (ii) in respect of which he suspects that a criminal offence has been, is being or is about to be committed; and
- (b) examine a box, parcel, basket, bundle, or any other package carried or conveyed by that person which he may reasonably suspect to contain an animal, matter or thing; and if that person does not give a satisfactory account of himself and of an animal, matter or thing the examination may discover, arrest that person and cause him to be taken before a Court as soon as practicable to be dealt with according to law.

31. Nothing in sections 29 and 30 shall authorise a person, other than a Judge, to grant a warrant to search for a document in the custody of a postal or telecommunications body or entity or data collection establishment.

Sections 29 and 30 not applicable to postal, telecommunications, and data collection establishment.

32. (1) Where a search warrant has been executed, the person who executed it shall return the warrant, together with everything seized under it to the High Court, a Judge, a Magistrate or Justices of the Peace sitting in Court.

Return of search warrant.

(2) Upon receipt of the search warrant and of all the things seized under it the High Court, a Judge, Magistrate or Justices of the Peace sitting in Court may make an order as to the immediate custody of the things seized and, at any time thereafter, may make an order as to their disposal as may seem proper.

(3) Subject to subsection (1), the Court shall, if of the opinion that property or any portion thereof can be returned to the person identified as the owner, without prejudice to the interests of justice, order that the property or any portion of the property be returned to the owner or to any other person as the Court may direct.

(4) Where a property has been taken from a person under this section, and the person is not charged before any Court but is released on the ground that there is no sufficient reason to believe that he has committed any offence, any property so taken from him shall be restored to him.

33. (1) A search warrant issued by a Judge, for the discovery of property stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained may be executed in any part of Sierra Leone.

Execution of search warrant.

(2) A search warrant issued by a Magistrate or Justice of the Peace in the Western Area or in a district in the Provinces, for the discovery of property stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained may be executed in any part of the Western Area or in a district of the Provinces, although such part or district is outside the jurisdiction of the Magistrate or Justice of the Peace issuing the warrant.

(3) Where property is alleged to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained is seized in pursuance of this section, a Police Officer or other person to whom the search warrant was directed shall, without special authority in that behalf, arrest the person on whose premises the property was at the time of seizure, or the person from whom it was taken, if other than the person on whose premises it was, and take him before the Court within whose jurisdiction the seizure was made, to account for the possession of the property and in every such case the Court before whom the person is brought shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter notwithstanding that the alleged offence was committed outside the jurisdiction of that Court.

(4) Where property has been taken under this section from a person charged before a Court with an offence, a report shall be made by the police to the Court of the fact of the property having been taken from the person charged and of the particulars of such property and the Court shall, if it is of the opinion that the property or a portion can be returned consistent with the interest of justice, direct the property or a portion be returned to the person charged or to such other person as the Court may deem proper.

GENERAL AUTHORITY OF THE COURTS

General authority of court to bring defendant before it.

Form 5
Second
Schedule

34. (1) A Court may cause to be brought before it, a person who, within the local limits of its jurisdiction -

- (a) is charged with an offence committed within Sierra Leone or which according to law may be dealt with as if it had been committed within Sierra Leone; and
- (b) against whom a complaint is made in respect of which the Court has power to make an order for the payment of money or otherwise, and to deal with such person according to its jurisdiction.

(2) The High Court may, in addition, cause to be brought before it, a person who is within Sierra Leone and is charged with an offence over which the High Court has jurisdiction.

35. (1) A Remitting Court before which a person who is within the local limits of its jurisdiction and is charged with having committed an offence within the local limits of the jurisdiction of another Court is brought, shall unless authorised to proceed in the case, send him in custody to the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the offence was committed or require him to give security for his surrender to such last-mentioned Court, to answer the charge and to be dealt with according to law.

Defendant to be remitted or brought in certain cases to another Court.

(2) A Remitting Court shall send to the Court to which the person charged is remitted for trial under subsection (1), an authenticated copy of the information, summons, warrant and any other process or document in its possession relative to that person.

36. A Remitting Court shall, where a person is held in custody under subsection (1) of section 35, issue a warrant, which shall be sufficient authority to a person to whom it is directed, to receive and detain the person named in it, and to carry and deliver him up to the Court to which the person charged is remitted for trial.

Removal under warrant.

PLACE OF INQUIRY AND TRIAL

37. An offence may be inquired into in any part of Sierra Leone.

Offence inquired into in any part of Sierra Leone

38. Subject to the Courts Act, 1965 and to the powers of transfer under section 42, the place for trial of offences by Court other than the High Court shall be determined according to the following rules-

Trial of cases by Court other than High Court.

- (a) an offence shall be tried in the Judicial District in which it was committed;
- (b) where a person is accused of the commission of an offence by reason of anything which has been done or which has been omitted to be done, and of any consequence which has ensued, the offence may be tried in a district in which the act was done or omitted to be done or any consequence that has ensued;
- (c) where an act is an offence by reason of its relation to another act, which is also an offence, or which would be an offence if the doer were capable of committing an offence, a charge of the first offence may be tried in the District in which either act was done;
- (d) where -
 - (i) it is uncertain in which of several Districts an offence was committed;
 - (ii) an offence is committed partly in one District and partly in another;
 - (iii) an offence is a continuing one, and continues to be committed in more Districts than one; or
 - (iv) an offence consists of several acts done in different Districts, the offence may be tried in any one of those Districts.

Offence committed on a journey.

39. An offence committed whilst the offender is on a journey or voyage may be tried in a District through or into which the defendant, or the person against whom, or the act in respect of which, the offence was committed, passed in the course of that journey or voyage.

40. Where a person is accused of the commission of an offence at sea or elsewhere out of Sierra Leone, which according to law may be dealt with in Sierra Leone, the offence may be tried at any place in Sierra Leone to which the defendant is first brought or to which he may be taken thereafter.

Offence committed at sea or out of Sierra Leone.

41. (1) A public officer or a person holding an office in respect of which the salary is provided from the Consolidated Fund or directly out of monies approved by Parliament, who commits outside Sierra Leone, when acting or purporting to act in the course of his duties, any act, which if committed in Sierra Leone would be an offence, commits an offence of the same nature and subject to the same punishment as if the act had been committed in Sierra Leone.

Offence by public officers abroad and on an aircraft.

(2) A person who commits an offence on an aircraft or does an act which if done in Sierra Leone would be an offence, commits an offence of the same nature, and shall be subject to the same punishment, as if the act had been committed in Sierra Leone.

(3) A person may be tried and punished for an offence under this section in any part of Sierra Leone in which he is apprehended or is in custody, as if the offence had been committed in that part of Sierra Leone and the offence shall for all purposes incidental to or consequential on the trial or punishment be deemed to have been committed in that part of Sierra Leone.

42. The High Court may, on an application made by Originating Notice of Motion, order that, an offence being inquired into by a Magistrate Court may be inquired into by another Magistrate Court specified in the Order, on the grounds that it would-

Power of High Court to transfer committal proceedings and other criminal cases.

- (a) tend to the general convenience of the parties or witnesses; or
- (b) otherwise be expedient for the ends of Justice.

43. (1) Whenever it is made to appear to a Judge, by summons that -

Power of Judge to transfer cases.

- (a) some question of law is likely to arise, which it is desirable should be decided by the High Court;
- (b) an order under this section will tend to the general convenience of the parties or witnesses; or
- (c) such an order is otherwise expedient for the ends of Justice, the Judge may order that -
 - (i) an offence be tried by the High Court or a subordinate Court;
 - (ii) a defendant be committed to the High Court for trial;
 - (iii) a defendant be committed to the High Court for trial instead of being tried at the place where he would but for the order have been tried, be tried by the High Court at such other place as may be specified in the order.

(2) The Judge may act on the summons of a party interested after due notice to all other interested parties.

(3) Where a defendant makes an application under this section, the Judge may, before granting the application, direct him to enter into a recognisance, with or without sureties, conditioned that he will, if convicted, pay the costs of the prosecution.

44. Where, in a criminal case, before evidence is taken, a person having the conduct of the prosecution or the defence, notifies the Court before which the case is pending, of his intention to make an application under section 42, in respect of the case, the Court shall adjourn the case to such a date as will afford a reasonable time for the application being made and an order being obtained thereon, before the defendant is called upon for his defence.

CONDUCT OF CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

45. (1) The Attorney-General and Minister of Justice may enter a nolle prosequi either by a statement in Court or informing the Court in writing that the State intends that the proceedings shall not continue and thereupon the defendant shall be at once discharged in respect of the charge for which the nolle prosequi is entered and if he has been committed to a correctional centre shall be released or if on bail his recognisances shall be discharged; but such discharge of the defendant shall not operate as a bar to any subsequent proceedings against him on account of the same facts.

Attorney-General and Minister of Justice may enter nolle prosequi.

(2) Where the defendant is not before the Court when the nolle prosequi is entered, the Court shall forthwith cause notice in writing of the entry of the nolle prosequi to be given to the keeper of the correctional centre in which the defendant may be detained and also shall forthwith cause a similar notice in writing to be given to any witnesses bound over to prosecute and to their sureties and also to the defendant and his sureties in case he shall have been admitted to bail.

*Forms 8 & 9
Schedule.*

(3) For the purposes of this section, proceedings include an appeal from a determination in criminal proceedings before a Court and a case stated or question of law reserved for the purposes of such proceedings.

PREVIOUS ACQUITTAL OR CONVICTION

46. A person, who has been once tried for an offence and convicted or acquitted of such offence, shall not be liable to be tried again on the same facts for the same offence or any other offence of which he could have been lawfully convicted at the first trial, unless a retrial is ordered by a Court having power to do so.

Person convicted or acquitted.

47. A person convicted or acquitted of an act causing consequences, which together with such act constitute a different offence from that for which such person was convicted or acquitted, may afterwards be tried for the last-mentioned offence, if the consequences had not happened at the time when he was acquitted or convicted.

Consequences supervening or not known at time of former trial.

Proof of
conviction.

48. In an information or indictment against a person in which evidence of a previous conviction or acquittal of such person for an offence is relevant to the issue, a certificate containing the substance and effect only, of the information or indictment and conviction or acquittal for such offence, purporting to be signed by the officer having the custody of the records of the Court where the defendant was convicted or acquitted, or by his deputy, shall, upon proof of the identity of the person convicted or acquitted be sufficient evidence of the conviction or acquittal without proof of the signature or official character of the person appearing to have signed it.

RULES AS TO INFORMATION AND INDICTMENT

Information or indictment.

49. (1) An information or indictment shall contain, and shall be sufficient if it contains, a statement of the specific offence or offences with which the defendant is charged, together with such particulars as may be necessary for giving reasonable information as to the nature of the charge.

*First
Schedule.*

(2) Notwithstanding any rule of law or practice, an information or indictment shall, subject to this Act, not be open to objection in respect of its form or content if it is framed in accordance with rules made under this Act.

(3) The Rules of Court Committee may, by statutory instrument, add to, vary, revoke or replace the Criminal Procedure Rules in the First Schedule.

JOINDER OF CHARGES AND DEFENDANTS

Joinder of charges and defendants.

50. (1) Subject to the Criminal Procedure Rules in the First Schedule, charges for offences may, if those charges are founded on the same facts or form a series of offences of the same or a similar character, be joined in the same complaint, information or indictment and tried at the same time.

(2) The following persons shall be charged and tried together, namely-

- (a) persons accused of the same offence committed in the course of the same transaction;
- (b) persons accused of an offence and persons accused of aiding and abetting or being an accessory to or of attempting to commit such offence or participating in the commission of such offence;
- (c) persons accused of different offences where all the offences are founded on the same facts or form or are part of a series of offences of the same or a similar character;
- (d) persons accused of different offences committed in the course of the same transaction.

COMPENSATION AND COSTS

51. (1) Where a person is convicted of an offence and the facts constituting the offence amount also to a tort against the person or property of the complainant, the Court before which that person is convicted may, on application of the prosecutor and if the evidence led at the trial so warrants, order the person convicted to pay the prosecutor such sum as appears to the Court to be reasonable compensation in so far as the sum shall not exceed the maximum fine that the Court is empowered to impose, in addition to or in lieu of any other punishment.

Compensation
ordered.

(2) Where a person is convicted of an offence and in the opinion of the Court the offence has resulted in financial loss to the Government or to loss of Government property, the Court shall order the person so convicted to make good the loss occasioned by the offence on such terms as the Court shall think fit in addition to any other punishment.

(3) Where compensation has been paid or a loss to the Government has been made good in accordance with subsections (1) and (2), the convicted person shall be released from all further or other proceedings by the prosecutor whether civil or criminal for the same cause.

Costs payable by party convicted.

52. The Court may order a person convicted before it to pay all or any specified part of the expenses of his prosecution in so far as the sum shall not exceed the maximum fine that the Court is empowered to impose.

Costs to be paid by complainant in certain cases.

53. Where it appears to the Court that a charge is malicious, frivolous or vexatious, the Court may order the complainant to pay all or any specified part of the expenses of the prosecution or of the defence but such sum shall not exceed the maximum fine that the Court is empowered to impose.

Payments to parties.

54. The Court may, when exercising the powers conferred upon it by section 52 or 53, order that the whole, or such portions as the Court thinks fit, of the expenses paid, be paid over to the prosecutor or to the defendant, as the case may be.

Recovery of damages, etc.

55. (1) Compensation or expenses awarded under sections 51 to 54 or paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 57 shall not be regarded as a penalty, but shall be recoverable as a judgment debt in the Court by which the order for payment is made.

*Form 10
Second
Schedule*

(2) Nothing in this section shall in any way affect or limit the powers conferred upon the Court by sections 56 and 57.

RESTITUTION OF PROPERTY

Return of property found on person arrested.

56. (1) Where upon the arrest of a person charged with an offence, property is taken from him, the Court before which he is charged may order that the property or a part thereof be restored to the person who appears to the Court to be entitled to it.

(2) Where property is retained in Court pending an appeal, on application by summons, the Court to which an appeal has been made or in which notice of leave to appeal has been filed, may, if it considers that the property is not necessary for the determination of the questions raised in the appeal, order the property or any part of the property to be returned to the person who appears to be entitled to it.

57. (1) Where a person is convicted of having stolen or otherwise obtained property dishonestly by means of an offence, or, is convicted of being involved in or facilitating the commission of an offence, the Court convicting him may-

Restitution of property stolen or its value.

- (a) order that the property or part thereof be restored to the person who appears to be the owner thereof either on payment or without payment by the owner to the person in whose possession such property or a part thereof of any sum named in the order;
- (b) make an assessment as to the value of the property at the time it was so stolen or otherwise obtained as aforesaid, and order that the sum so assessed be paid by the person convicted to the person who appears to be the owner of the property.

(2) Where a person is convicted of an offence and the Court before which he is convicted is satisfied that the property has been lawfully seized from him, or which was in his possession or under his control at the time when he was apprehended for the offence, or has been used for the purpose of committing or facilitating the commission of an offence or was intended by him to be used for that purpose, the Court may make such order as it thinks fit under this section in respect of that property.

(3) This section shall not apply to-

- (a) valuable security which has been bona fide paid or discharged by a person liable to pay or discharge the security; or
- (b) negotiable instrument or money which shall have been bona fide received by transfer or delivery by any person for a just and valuable consideration without notice, or without any reasonable cause to suspect, that it had been stolen or otherwise dishonestly obtained; or
- (c) an offence against sections 20, 21 and 22 of the Larceny Act, 1916.

(4) On the restitution of a stolen property if it appears to the Court by the evidence that the person convicted has sold the stolen property to a person, and that the person had no knowledge that the property was stolen, and that monies have been taken from the person convicted on his apprehension and not returned to him under section 56, the Court may, on the application of the purchaser, order that out of such monies a sum not exceeding the amount of the proceeds of the sale be delivered to the purchaser.

PRESERVATION OF TESTIMONY IN CERTAIN CASES

Power to take depositions of persons dangerously ill.

*Form 11
Second
Schedule*

58. Whenever it appears to a Court that any person dangerously ill or hurt, and not likely to recover, is able and willing to give material information relating to an offence, and it shall not be practicable to take the statement or deposition of the person so ill or hurt in accordance with Part III in relation to summary trials or Part IV in relation to committal proceedings, the Court may take in writing the statement on oath or affirmation of such person and shall subscribe the same and certify that it contains accurately the whole of the statement made by such person, and shall add a statement of the reason for taking the oath and of the date and place when and where it was taken, and shall preserve such statement and file it as part of the record of ensuing proceedings.

59. If the statement taken in writing under section 58 relates or is expected to relate to an offence for which a person is under a charge or committal for trial, reasonable notice of the intention to take the statement shall be served upon the prosecutor and defendant, and if the defendant is in custody, he shall be brought by the person in whose charge he is, under an order in writing of the Court, to the place where the statement is to be taken.

Notices to be given in certain cases.

*Form 12
Second
Schedule*

60. Where a statement taken in writing under section 59 relates to an offence for which a person is then or subsequently committed for trial, it shall be transmitted to the Court in which the person is to be tried, and a copy thereof shall be transmitted to the Attorney-General and Minister of Justice.

Transmission of statement.

61. (1) A statement taken in writing under section 58 may afterwards be used in evidence on the trial of a person accused of an offence to which the statement relates, if the person who made the statement is dead, or the Court is satisfied that -

Statement may be used in evidence.

- (a) for sufficient cause his attendance cannot be procured; and
- (b) reasonable notice of the intention to take such statement was served upon the person against whom it is to be read in evidence; and
- (c) he had or might have had, if he had chosen to be present, full opportunity of cross-examining the person making the statement.

(2) The signature and attestation of the Judge or Magistrate by whom a statement was taken shall be sufficient prima facie proof of the statement, and that the statement was taken in all respects according to law, and such attestation and signature shall be admitted without proof unless the Court sees reason to doubt the genuineness of the attestation and signature.

WRITTEN STATEMENTS AND DEPOSITIONS

Written statement and depositions.

62. (1) Where a person has been committed for trial for an offence, written statements obtained or the deposition of a person taken before the committing Magistrate may, if the conditions set out in subsection (2) are satisfied, without further proof, be read as evidence on the trial of that person, whether for that offence or for any other offence arising out of the same transaction or set of circumstances as that offence.

(2) The conditions referred to in subsection (1) are -

- (a) where a witness whose attendance at the trial is stated to be unnecessary or who cannot be found, or whose attendance cannot be procured without an amount of delay, expense or inconvenience which in the circumstances of the case, the Court considers unreasonable, or who is proved at the trial by the oath or affirmation of a credible witness to be dead or insane or otherwise, mentally unwell, or so ill as not to be able to travel, or to be kept out of the way by means of the procurement of the defendant or on his behalf;
- (b) where the document about to be tendered is a written statement or a deposition, it must be proved at the trial either by a certificate purporting to be signed by the Magistrate before whom the written statement or deposition is purported to have been tendered or taken, or, by the clerk to such Magistrate, that the written statement was tendered in the presence of the defendant; and that where this was permissible, the defendant or his counsel had full opportunity to cross-examine the witness.

63. (1) The written statement or deposition of a medical practitioner or other witness, tendered or taken and attested to by a Magistrate in the presence of the defendant, may be read as evidence, although the witness medical or the deponent is not called as a witness.

Written statement or deposition of medical practitioner may be read as evidence.

(2) The Court may, if it thinks fit, and on the application of either party, summon and examine the deponent as to the subject matter of his written statement or deposition.

(3) This section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any other provisions of this Act.

64. A statement made by the defendant at the committal proceedings may be given in evidence if admissible according to the rules of evidence.

Statement of defendant at committal proceedings.

65. The signature or attestation of the Magistrate holding the committal proceedings shall be sufficient prima facie proof of a written statement or deposition and that it was tendered or taken in all respects according to law, and the attestation and signature shall be admitted without further proof, unless the Court sees reason to doubt the genuineness of the statement or deposition.

Signature and attestation of Magistrate.

66. (1) In a trial on indictment for murder or manslaughter, the declaration of a deceased person, whether it be made in the presence of the defendant or not, may be given in evidence if the deceased person at the time of making the declaration believed himself in danger of imminent death and entertained at the time of making it no hope of recovery.

Dying declaration.

(2) In a trial otherwise than upon indictment for murder or manslaughter where the cause of death of a deceased person comes into question, the declaration of the deceased whether it be made in the presence of the defendant or not, may, at the discretion of the Court be given in evidence if the deceased at the time of making the declaration believed himself to be in danger of approaching death although he may have entertained at the time of making it, hopes of recovery.

Certain scientific report to be evidence.

67. (1) A document purporting to be a report under the hand of a medical practitioner, dental surgeon or chemist duly registered with the appropriate regulatory body or a forensic scientist or expert duly registered for that purpose, relating to the examination or analysis of-

- (a) a body, body part or body fluid; or
- (b) the extent of injuries of a person;

may, if it is directed to the Court or the prosecuting authority or produced by a Police Officer or a person to whom it is directed or to someone acting on his behalf, be used as evidence of the facts stated in it in a committal proceeding, trial or other proceeding under this Act.

(2) A document purporting to be a report under the hand of a pharmacist, chemist, forensic analyst, geoscientist, environmental expert, laboratory technician or other scientist duly registered for that purpose, relating to a substance or thing submitted to him for examination or analysis, may, if it is directed to the Court or produced by a person to whom it is directed or someone acting on his behalf, be used as evidence of the facts stated in it at a committal proceeding, trial or other proceeding under this Act.

(3) A document purporting to be a report under the hand of a licensed surveyor, an engineer, architect, quantity surveyor or other examining officer relating to -

- (a) land, civil works, buildings, electrical installations, equipment, appliances, plants or machinery; or
- (b) the condition or operations of any motor vehicle, vessel, aircraft or conveyance;

may, if it is directed to the Court or the prosecuting authority or produced by a Police Officer or a person to whom it is directed or someone acting on his behalf, be used as evidence of the facts stated in a committal proceeding, trial or other proceeding under this Act.

(4) A document purporting to be a report under the hand of a forensic accountant, financial analyst, information technologist or expert actuarial scientist or other scientist or examiner relating to any document, process or thing submitted to him for examination or analysis may, if it is directed to the Court or the prosecuting authority or is produced by a person to whom it is directed or someone acting on his behalf, be used as evidence of the facts stated in it at a committal proceeding, trial or other proceeding under this Act.

(5) The Court may presume that the signature to a document is genuine and that the person signing it held the office which he professed to hold or was recognised as such at the time when he signed it.

(6) Upon receiving a report in evidence the Court shall, if it thinks such a course proper for the ends of justice, summon and examine a person referred to in subsections (1), (2) (3) and (4) as a witness or cause the person's evidence to be taken on commission, as the circumstances of the case shall require.

(7) For the purposes of this section, "vessel" includes an ocean-going ship, locally constructed boat and any other vessel plying the coastal or inland waterways of Sierra Leone.

DEFENCE OF UNSOUNDNESS OF MIND

68. (1) When in the course of a trial or a committal proceeding, the Court has reason to believe that the defendant is of unsound mind and consequently unable to make his defence, it shall order the defendant to be confined in a mental hospital for a period of 30 days for observation.

Inquiry by Court.

Form 13
Second
Schedule

(2) Before or immediately upon the conclusion of the period of observation under subsection (1), the Chief Medical Officer shall cause a report on the condition of the defendant signed by 2 registered medical practitioners, notwithstanding that the practitioners who signed the reports hold different opinions as to the defendant's mental state, to be sent to the Court, which shall forthwith, after considering the report and taking such further evidence as it considers necessary, make a finding upon the state of mind of the defendant.

(3) Where the Court finds that the defendant is of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, it shall -

- (a) postpone further proceedings on the case; and
- (b) if the case is one in which bail may -
 - (i) be granted, release the defendant on sufficient security being given that he shall be properly taken care of and shall be prevented from doing injury to himself or to any person or property, and for his appearance before the Court or such officer as the Court may appoint in that behalf; or
 - (ii) not be granted, or if sufficient security is not given, report to the Minister who may order the defendant to be confined in a mental hospital, correctional center or other suitable place of safe custody and issue a warrant in accordance with such order.

Defendant appearing to be of sound mind at committal proceedings.

69. Where the defendant appears to be of sound mind at the time of the committal proceedings, the Court shall, notwithstanding that it is alleged that at the time when the act was committed in respect of which the defendant is charged he was, by reason of unsoundness of mind incapable of knowing the nature of the act or that it was wrong or contrary to law, proceed with the case and if the defendant ought to be committed for trial, so commit him.

Defence of insanity.

70. (1) Where a person is charged with an offence and it is given in evidence on the trial of that person for that offence that he was insane so as not to be responsible for his action at the time when the act was done, then if it appears to the Court before whom the person is tried that he did the act but was insane at the time when he did it, the Court shall make a special finding to the effect that the defendant is not guilty by reason of insanity.

(2) When a finding is made under subsection (1), the Court shall -

- (a) order the defendant to be kept in custody as a criminal lunatic in a place and in the manner as the Court shall direct; and
- (b) report to the Minister who may order the defendant to be confined in a mental hospital, correctional center or other suitable place of safe custody.

(3) Where a person is charged with an offence and it is given in evidence on the trial of such person, that he was temporarily insane or was otherwise of diminished responsibility so as not to be responsible for his action at the material time when the act was done, the trial shall be proceeded with and the Court shall take such mental condition into consideration in reaching a verdict.

71. (1) The Officer in charge of a mental hospital, correctional center or other place in which a criminal lunatic is detained by virtue of an order made under section 68 or section 70, shall make a report to the Minister which shall be accompanied by a report by a medical practitioner at such times (not being less than once a year) and containing such particulars as the Minister may require, of the conditions and circumstances of every criminal lunatic in the correctional centre, mental hospital or other place, and the Minister shall, at least once in every 3 years during which a criminal lunatic is detained in the mental hospital, correctional centre or other place, consider the condition, history and circumstances of such criminal lunatic and determine whether he ought to be discharged absolutely or conditionally or otherwise dealt with.

Periodical report on criminal lunatic.

Schedule

(2) Where a criminal lunatic is conditionally discharged under subsection (1), a report of his condition shall be made to the Minister by such person, at such times and containing such particulars as may be required by the order of discharge.

Transfer and discharge of defendants of unsound mind.
Form 15
Second
Schedule

72. (1) The Minister may, from time to time by order direct the transfer of a criminal lunatic detained in a mental hospital, correctional center or other suitable place of safe custody and the criminal lunatic shall accordingly be received and detained in such a place of safe custody, to which he is so transferred.

(2) The Minister may by order absolutely discharge a criminal lunatic and may also discharge a criminal lunatic on such conditions as to the duration of the discharge or otherwise as the Minister may think fit.

(3) Where a criminal lunatic has been discharged conditionally under subsection (2), if any of the conditions of such discharge appear to the Minister to be broken or the conditional discharge is revoked, the Minister may by order direct him to be taken into custody and to be conveyed to some mental hospital, correctional center or other place of safe custody named in the order, and he may thereupon be taken in like manner as if he had escaped from the mental hospital, correctional center or other place of such custody and shall be received and detained therein as if he had been removed thereto in pursuance of this Act.

Resumption of trial or investigation.

73. Whenever a committal proceeding or trial is postponed under section 68 or section 136, the Court may at any time resume the committal proceeding or trial and require the defendant to appear or be brought before such Court, when, if the Court considers him capable of making his defence, the committal proceeding or trial shall proceed, but if the Court considers the defendant to be still incapable of making his defence, the defendant shall be dealt with as though the committal proceeding or trial had not been resumed.

Certificate of medical officer to be evidence.

Form 16
Second
Schedule

74. Where a person is confined in a mental hospital under section 68 and the Officer in charge of such hospital certifies that, in his opinion, the defendant is capable of making his defence, the defendant shall be taken before the Court at such time as the Court appoints, to be dealt with according to law and the certificate of the medical officer shall be receivable in evidence.

75. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 73 and 74 where it is certified by the officer in charge of a mental hospital or other medical practitioner appointed for that purpose by the Chief Medical Officer, that the mental balance of a defendant would be jeopardised by the strain of a trial, the proceedings against the defendant shall be discontinued unless the Attorney-General and Minister of Justice informs the Court that he considers it essential in the public interest for the trial to proceed.

Trial to be discontinued in certain cases.

(2) Where the proceedings are discontinued under subsection (1), the Court shall discharge the defendant and thereafter he shall be subject to (Cap. 127) the Lunacy Act in the same circumstances and to the same extent as a mental patient against whom proceedings have not been brought.

ADMISSION TO BAIL

- 76. (1) Where a person is charged with an offence -
- (a) of murder or treason he shall not be admitted to bail except by a Judge;
 - (b) for which the maximum penalty is life imprisonment, the Court may, if it thinks fit, admit him to bail;
 - (c) other than those referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b), the Court shall admit him to bail, unless the prosecutor proffers good and sufficient reasons, on affidavit, why bail should not be granted.

Admission to bail by Judge or Court.

(2) A person may be admitted to bail at any time and thereupon shall be discharged from custody or correctional centre if he is not detained for any other cause.

(3) A Judge may, if he thinks fit, admit a person to bail although the Court before whom the charge is pending has not thought it fit to do so.

(4) A defendant who is admitted to bail shall procure such surety or sureties as in the opinion of the Court will be sufficient to ensure his appearance as and when required and shall with him or them, enter into a recognisance accordingly.

(5) The Court may dispense with sureties if, in its opinion, its so dispensing will not tend to defeat the ends of justice and may make such orders, as it may deem fit, including that the defendant -

- (a) surrenders his travelling documents to the Court pending the hearing or trial;
- (b) reports at such place and at such times as the Court may determine;
- (c) gives a definite place of abode or residence; or
- (d) be subject to restriction on his movement or such terms as the Court may determine.

(6) Where the defendant is required to procure a surety or sureties, the recognisances of the sureties may be taken separately and either before or after the recognisance of the defendant.

(7) The Rules of Court Committee may make such rules as may be necessary for giving effect to this section.

Admission to bail by Police Officer.

77. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 76, a Police Officer in charge of a police station or police post may admit to bail by recognisance conditioned for the appearance of a defendant before the Magistrate Court or the Police Officer, on a day and at a place to be mentioned in the recognisance, there and then to be dealt with according to law, where a defendant is arrested -

- (a) without warrant, on a charge for an offence other than an offence for which the penalty is life imprisonment; or

- (b) under a warrant endorsed for bail under section 28.

(2) A Police Officer in admitting a suspect or defendant to bail under subsection (1), may require the defendant to -

- (a) surrender his travelling documents or such other documents as may be required;
- (b) report at such place and at such times as may be determined;
- (c) give a definite place of abode or residence; or
- (d) provide surety or sureties, with or without title deeds or other security as may be approved.

(3) A recognisance under subsection (1), shall be of full and equal obligation on the parties entering into it and liable to all its proceedings for the forfeiture and levy of recognisances under section 124.

(4) A Police Officer shall, in admitting a suspect or defendant to bail under subsection (1), enter in a book, kept for that purpose in every police station or post or lock-up, the name, residence and occupation of the person entering into the recognisance and of his surety or sureties, if any, with the condition of the recognisance and documents or other security deposited or acknowledged.

Form 19

Schedule

(5) A book, kept under subsection (4), shall be laid before the Magistrate or the Police Officer present at the time and place where the suspect or defendant is required to appear and such Magistrate or Police Officer may enlarge the recognisance to such further time as he may appoint.

CONVICTION FOR OFFENCE OTHER THAN THAT CHARGED

Person charged with an offence may be convicted of attempt.

78. (1) Where on the trial of a person charged with an offence it appears upon the evidence that the defendant did not complete the offence but was guilty of attempting to commit the offence or to cause such offence to be committed, such defendant shall not be acquitted, but a verdict may be returned of not guilty of the offence charged but guilty of an attempt to commit the offence and thereupon the defendant shall be punished as if convicted on an information or indictment for attempting to commit such offence and no person so tried shall be afterwards prosecuted for an attempt to commit the offence for which he was so tried.

(2) Where a person is charged with an attempt to commit an offence and the evidence establishes the commission of the full offence, the defendant may not be convicted of the full offence but may nevertheless be convicted of the attempt.

Conviction of manslaughter on a charge of murder.

79. (1) Where a person is charged with murder he may, if the evidence so warrants, be acquitted of murder and convicted of manslaughter if the evidence so warrants although he was not charged with that offence.

(2) Where upon the trial of a woman for the murder of her child, being a child under the age of 12 months, and the Court is of the opinion that at the time she, by any wilful act or omission, caused his death but that at the time of the act or omission the balance of her mind was disturbed by reason of her not having fully recovered from the effect of giving birth to the child or by reason of the effect of lactation consequent upon the birth of the child, she may be convicted of infanticide.

Conviction of assault with intent to rob on a charge of robbery.

80. Where a person is charged with robbery and it is proved that he committed an assault with intent to rob, he may be acquitted of robbery and convicted of an assault with intent to rob although he was not charged with that offence.

81. (1) Where on a trial for any of the offences mentioned in sections 25, 26, 27 and 28 of the Larceny Act, 1916, the facts proved in evidence authorise the conviction for some other of these offences and not the offence with which the defendant is charged, he may be found guilty of the other offence and thereupon he shall be punished as if he had been convicted on information or an indictment charging him with such offence, except that a person shall not be convicted under this subsection, of an offence, the maximum punishment for which is greater than that prescribed for the offence charged.

Persons charged with burglary, etc., may be convicted of kindred offences.

(2) Where a person charged with any offence under section 17 of the Larceny Act, 1916 relating to embezzlement and it is proved that he stole the property in question, he may be convicted of stealing although he was not charged with that offence and where a person is charged with stealing a money or valuable security he may, in like manner, be convicted of embezzlement or of fraudulent application or disposition as the case may be.

(3) Where a person is charged with stealing a chattel, money or valuable security, and it is proved that he received the chattel, money or valuable security knowing it to have been stolen, he may be convicted of receiving although he was not charged with that offence.

(4) Where a person is charged with stealing and it is proved that he obtained the chattel, money or valuable security in question in such manner as would amount under the Larceny Act, 1916, to obtaining it by false pretenses with intent to defraud, he may be convicted of obtaining it by false pretenses although he was not charged with that offence.

(5) Where a person is charged with obtaining a chattel, money or valuable security by false pretenses with intent to defraud and it is proved that he stole the property in question, he may be convicted of stealing it although he was not charged with that offence.

(6) Where 2 or more persons are charged jointly with receiving a property, and it is proved that one or more of the persons separately received any part of the property, any of those persons who are proved to have received a part of the property may be convicted upon such charge.

(7) Where a defendant is charged with rape or sexual penetration and the original charge is not proved, he may be convicted of any of the lesser offences in the Sexual Offences Act, 2012 (Act No. 12 of 2012) or in any other law dealing with indecent assault although not charged with that offence.

(8) Where a defendant is charged with wounding and the original charge is not proved, he may be convicted of the lesser offence of common assault although not charged with that offence.

Trials under this Act.

82. Subject to section 3, trial of felonies and misdemeanors shall be conducted in accordance with this Act.

Spouse shall be competent and compellable witness.

83. Subject to any law relating to evidence in criminal cases, where a person charged with an offence, is married to another person, that other person shall be a competent and compellable witness on behalf of either the prosecution or the defence.

Competency of person charged and his spouse or cohabiting partner to give evidence.

84. (1) Subject to any law relating to the giving of evidence in Court, a person charged with an offence and the spouse or cohabiting partner shall be a competent witness for the defence at every stage of the proceedings, whether the person charged is charged solely or jointly with any other person.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) a person charged with an offence shall not -

- (a) be called as a witness under this Act except upon his own application; or
- (b) be made the subject of a comment by the prosecution on account of the failure of him, his spouse or cohabiting partner, as the case may be, to give evidence.

(3) A spouse or cohabiting partner of a person charged with an offence shall not be -

- (a) called as a witness under this Act except upon the application of the person so charged;
- (b) compellable to disclose communication made to each other during the marriage or cohabitation.

(4) A person charged with an offence under this Act and being a witness may be asked any question in cross-examination, notwithstanding that it would tend to incriminate him as to the offence charged.

(5) A person charged with an offence and called as a witness under this Act shall not be asked, and if asked shall not be required to answer, a question tending to show that he has committed or been convicted of or been charged with an offence other than that for which he has been charged or is of bad character, unless-

- (a) the proof that he has committed or been convicted of such other offence is admissible evidence to show that he is guilty of the offence charged;
- (b) he has personally or by his counsel -
 - (i) asked questions of the witnesses for the prosecution with a view to establishing his own good character;
 - (ii) given evidence of his good character; or
 - (iii) invited imputations on the character of the prosecutor or the witnesses for the prosecution; or

(c) he has given evidence against another person charged with the same offence.

(6) A person called as a witness under this Act shall, unless otherwise ordered by the Court, give his evidence from the witness box or other place from which the other witnesses gave their evidence.

(7) A person charged with an offence may, notwithstanding subsections (1) to (6), make a statement without being sworn.

Prosecution to deliver to defendant copies of written statements before trial.

85. (1) At any time before, or during the course of a trial, the prosecution shall, at the request of the defendant, deliver to him a copy of a written statement taken by the police or any other prosecuting authority from any person whom the prosecution intends to call as a witness or who is actually called as a witness.

(2) Where a witness is cross-examined at the trial on behalf of the defendant on any part of the witness's written statement made to the police or other prosecuting authority, the police or other prosecuting authority may furnish the Court with a copy of the written statement which shall become part of the record of the trial.

(3) A written statement taken by the police or other prosecuting authority shall not thereby become evidence of facts alleged therein, but the judge may take it into account in judging the credibility of the witness on his evidence as a whole and the prosecution and defence shall be entitled to refer to it in examining or cross-examining a witness and in addressing the Court.

Evidence of person charged.

86. Where the only witness to the facts of the case called by the defence is the person charged, he shall be called as a witness immediately after the close of the evidence for the prosecution.

Right of reply.

87. Where the right of reply depends upon the question whether evidence has been called for the defence, the fact that the person charged has been called as a witness shall not of itself confer on the prosecution the right of reply.

88. (1) The spouse or cohabiting partner of a person charged with an offence relating to rape, abduction of females or other sexual offences, may be called as a witness either for the prosecution or defence and without the consent of the person charged Calling of spouse or cohabiting partner in certain cases.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall affect a case where the spouse or cohabiting partner of a person charged with an offence may at common law be called as a witness, without the consent of that person.

89. (1) A party producing a witness shall not be allowed to impeach his credibility by general evidence of bad character, but he may, in case the witness, in the opinion of the Judge, proves adverse or hostile, contradict him by other evidence, or, by leave of the Judge, prove that he has made at other times a written statement inconsistent with his present testimony. Hostile witness and previous inconsistent statement.

(2) Where a witness under subsection (1), upon cross-examination as to a former statement made by him and inconsistent with his present testimony, does not admit that he has made such statement, proof may be given that he did in fact make it.

(3) Proof that the written statement of a witness is inconsistent with his present testimony shall not be given unless the circumstances of the supposed written statement, sufficient to designate the particular occasion, is mentioned to the witness and he is asked whether or not he has made such written statement.

(4) A witness may be cross-examined as to previous statements made by him in writing or reduced into writing, without such writing being shown to him unless the written statement is intended to contradict such witness.

(5) A written statement intended to contradict a witness under subsection (4), shall not be given, unless -

- (a) the attention of the witness is called to those parts of the writing which are to be used for the purpose of so contradicting him; and
- (b) the judge is able, at any time during the trial, to order reproduction of the writing for his inspection and make such use of it for the purposes of the trial, as he may think fit.

Circumstances where secondary evidence is admissible.

90. A statement made in a document shall be admissible in criminal proceedings as evidence of a fact of which direct oral evidence would be admissible if the person who made the statement is -

- (a) dead or by reason of his bodily or mental condition is unfit to attend as a witness;
- (b) out of the jurisdiction of Sierra Leone and it is not reasonably practicable to secure his attendance;
- (c) cannot be found after all reasonable steps have been taken to find him;
- (d) does not wish to give evidence through fear, provided that the statement was made to a Police Officer or some other person charged with the duty of investigating offences or charging defendants.

Admissibility of statements.

91. (1) A statement in a document shall be admissible in a criminal proceeding as evidence of a fact of which direct oral evidence would be admissible if the following conditions are satisfied-

- (a) the document was created or received by a person in the course of a trade, business, profession or other occupation, or as the holder of a paid or unpaid office; and

- (b) the information contained in the document was supplied by a person whether the maker of the statement or a person who had or may reasonably be supposed to have had personal knowledge of the matters dealt with in the document.

(2) Subsection (1) applies whether the information contained in the document was supplied directly or indirectly but, if it was supplied indirectly, only if each person through whom it was supplied received it-

- (a) in the course of a trade, business, profession or other occupation; or
- (b) as the holder of a paid or unpaid office.

(3) With the exception of expert reports, a statement prepared for the purposes of-

- (a) a pending or contemplated criminal proceeding; or
- (b) criminal investigations, shall not be admissible under subsection (1) unless the requirements of that section are satisfied or the person who made the statement cannot reasonably be expected, having regard to the time which has elapsed since he made the statement and to all other circumstances, to have recollection of the matters dealt with in the statement.

92. (1) In a criminal proceeding, where a tape or video recording or any other material, whether produced or recorded mechanically, electronically, digitally, manually or otherwise, is relevant to an issue in dispute, it shall be open to either party to replay such tape, video, other form of electronic recording, or other material to the Court and the same shall be received in evidence.

Admissibility of evidence on tape, video recording or film.

(2) In a criminal proceeding, where a map, photograph, film, disc or any form of computer input or output and any other material, whether produced or recorded mechanically, electronically, digitally, manually or otherwise is relevant to an issue in dispute, it shall be open to either party to produce such map, photograph, film, disc, computer input or output or other material to the Court and the same shall be received in evidence.

PART III - SUMMARY TRIALS

Trials in Magistrate Court.

93. A trial in a Magistrate Court shall be conducted summarily in the manner and subject to the conditions laid down in this Part.

Court to sit in public.

94. (1) A Magistrate Court shall sit to hear and determine the charge in a room or place to which the public generally shall have access as far as it can conveniently contain them.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the Court may make an order for a trial to be heard in camera if it is satisfied that it is in the interest of justice to do so.

Non-appearance of prosecutor.

95. Where a defendant comes before a Magistrate Court on a summons, warrant, or otherwise, either originally or on adjournment, then if the prosecutor, having had notice of the time and place appointed for the hearing or adjourned hearing of the charge, does not appear, the Court shall dismiss the charge, unless for some reason it thinks fit to adjourn or further adjourn the hearing.

Appearance of both parties.

96. If at the time and place appointed for the hearing of a case, both the defendant and the prosecutor appear before the Magistrate Court, it shall proceed to hear and finally determine the charge.

Where defendant pleads guilty in writing.

97. Where a defendant does not appear personally and pleads guilty in writing under section 23, the Magistrate Court may proceed to determine the matter notwithstanding the absence of the prosecutor.

98. (1) Redacted and un-redacted statements shall be served on the defence by the prosecution within 8 days of the initial appearance of the defendant, or, for such period, not exceeding 3 days at any one time, as the Court may determine, after the initial appearance of the defendant.

Redacted and unredacted statements to be served on defence.

(2) Where a defendant intends to raise the defence of alibi, he shall give notice of it to the prosecution within 14 days after receipt of an un-redacted statement under subsection (1).

99. (1) At the first appearance, the substance of the charge or charges shall be read out to the defendant and he shall be asked if he admits or denies the truth of the charge.

Defendant to be called upon to plead.

(2) A Magistrate Court shall record the exact words of the answer to the charge made by the defendant and if the answer does not consist merely of the words "guilty" or "not guilty", as the case may be, the Magistrate Court shall record its interpretation of the answer and whether in the opinion of the Court it amounts to a plea of guilty or not guilty, as the case may be.

100. Where a defendant admits the truth of the charge, the Magistrate Court may convict him or refuse to accept a plea of guilty, as it thinks fit.

Procedure in plea of guilty.

101. (1) The Magistrate Court may, at any time during the hearing of a charge, adjourn the hearing for a period not exceeding 3 days if the defendant is not on bail.

Hearing may be adjourned.

(2) An adjournment ordered for any reason shall be made to a certain time and place appointed and stated at the time of adjournment in the presence and hearing of the parties.

102. A Magistrate Court may, during an adjournment, according to the nature and circumstances of each case and subject to section 77,-

Custody of defendant.

- (a) release the defendant on bail or commit him by warrant to a correctional centre or other place of detention or safe custody as the Court thinks fit; or
- (b) discharge the defendant on his entering into a recognisance with or without a surety or sureties.

Non-appearance of defendant in answer to summons or after adjournment.

103. (1) A Magistrate Court may, where -

- (a) at a time or place appointed by summons or on the adjournment of a hearing, a defendant does not appear, and, in the case of a summons, it is duly proved that the summons was served on the defendant within a reasonable time before the time for his appearance; and
- (b) the charge is not an offence punishable by a term of imprisonment exceeding one year, proceed with the hearing and convict the defendant in his absence, or refrain from doing so until he shall be brought before it.

(2) A Magistrate Court may, set aside a conviction made in the absence of a defendant upon being satisfied that his absence was due to causes over which he had no control and that he has a good defence upon the merits.

(3) A sentence of imprisonment passed under subsection (1) shall be deemed to commence from the date of arrest.

(4) A Magistrate Court shall, where, in its discretion, refrains from convicting in his absence, a defendant who -

- (a) has not appeared; and

- (b) is charged with an offence punishable by a term of imprisonment not exceeding one year;

issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant and cause him to be brought before it.

104. (1) A Magistrate Court shall, where -

Procedure on plea of not guilty.

- (a) a defendant does not admit the truth of the charge; or
- (b) the Court refuses to accept a plea of guilty; proceed to hear the prosecutor and his witnesses and other evidence, if any.

(2) The defendant or his Counsel may put questions to each witness produced against him and the answer of the witness to the questions shall be part of his case.

(3) Where a defendant does not employ a Counsel, the Magistrate Court shall, at the close of the examination of each witness for the prosecution, ask the defendant whether he wishes to put any questions to that witness.

105. (1) A Magistrate Court shall, where at the close of the evidence in support of a charge, - Defence.

- (a) the defendant or his counsel makes a no case submission; and
- (b) it appears to the Court that the case is not made out against the defendant sufficiently to require him to make a defence, as to the particular charge, acquit and discharge the defendant.

(2) A defendant or his counsel shall first make a no case submission, under paragraph (a) of subsection (1), and thereafter the prosecuting counsel shall reply and the defendant or his counsel shall not be entitled to say anything further.

(3) A Magistrate Court shall, where at the close of evidence in support of a charge, it appears to the Court that the case is made against the defendant sufficiently to require him to make a defence, ask him if he -

- (a) wishes to say anything in answer to the charge; or
- (b) has witnesses to examine or other evidence to adduce in his defence;

hear the defendant and his witnesses and other evidence, if any.

(4) A Magistrate Court may, where -

- (a) a defendant states that he has witnesses to call, other than an alibi witness in respect of whom notice should have been given but they are not present in Court;
- (b) the absence of the witnesses is not due to a fault of the defendant; and
- (c) there is a likelihood that they could, if present, give material evidence on behalf of the defendant, adjourn the trial and issue process or take other steps, to compel the attendance of such witnesses.

106. Where a defendant adduces evidence other than evidence as to character in his defence, except with the leave of the Court,- in reply.

Evidence

- (a) the prosecutor may adduce evidence in reply thereto but shall not make observations by way of reply to the evidence adduced by the defendant; and
- (b) the defendant shall not make observations on evidence adduced by the prosecutor in reply.

107. (1) A Magistrate Court shall, where, before trial upon information or at any stage of the trial, it appears to the Court that- ^{Amendment of information.}

- (a) the information is defective in a material particular; or
- (b) the evidence discloses an offence other than the offence with which the defendant is charged;

make such order for the amendment of the information as it thinks necessary to meet the circumstances of the case, unless having regard to the merits of the case, the required amendment cannot be made without injustice.

(2) An order for the amendment of the information under subsection (1), may be by way of amendment of the information or by the substitution or addition of a new charge and on such terms as shall seem to the Court to be just.

(3) A Magistrate Court shall, where an information is amended under subsection (1), -

- (a) call upon the defendant to plead to the amended information;
- (b) at the request of the defendant, recall any of the witnesses for the prosecution, or for the defence, for further cross-examination or re-examination, as the case may be.

(4) Variance between the information and the evidence adduced in support of it with respect to the time at which the alleged offence was committed is not material, if it is proved that the information was in fact made within the time, if any, limited by law for its making.

(5) A Magistrate Court shall,-

- (a) where an amendment of an information is made under subsection (1) or there is a variance between the information and the evidence as described in subsection (4); and
- (b) it is of the opinion that the defendant has been thereby deceived or embarrassed;

allow a witness to be recalled and further questioned upon any matter relevant to the amended or varied charge and adjourn the trial for such period as may be reasonably necessary.

Order for separate trial.

108. (1) A Magistrate Court may, where at any stage of a trial it is of the opinion that -

- (a) the defendant may be prejudiced or embarrassed in his defence by reason of being charged with more than one offence in the same information; or
- (b) for any other reason it is desirable to direct that the defendant should be tried separately for any one or more offences charged in one information; order a separate trial of an offence or offences charged in the information.

(2) A Magistrate Court may, where at any stage of a trial, it is of the opinion that -

- (a) one or more of the defendants may be prejudiced or embarrassed in his defence by reason of being charged together with another person or other persons in one count or in the same information; or
- (b) for any other reason it is desirable to direct that one or more defendants should be tried separately for any one or more of the offences charged on the information; order a separate trial of that defendant or those defendants.

109. (1) A Magistrate Court shall, having heard the witnesses and other evidence adduced and submissions by the parties themselves or their counsel, consider the whole matter and finally determine the case and either -

- (a) convict the defendant and pass sentence; or
- (b) cause a record to be made of the point or points for determination, the decision therein and the reason for the decision.

(2) A Magistrate Court may, at any time before the final determination of a case under subsection (1), allow the prosecutor to withdraw any charge against the defendant whereupon such charge shall be deemed to be dismissed.

(3) Where a Magistrate Court convicts or makes an order against a defendant in respect of which an appeal lies to the High Court, the Magistrate Court shall inform the defendant of his right to appeal at the time of entering the conviction or making the order.

PART IV - COMMITTAL PROCEEDINGS

110. The Magistrate shall, where a person is before him charged with an offence which is triable exclusively by the High Court or in the opinion of the Magistrate ought to be tried by the High Court, conduct committal proceedings into the charge or charges alleged, in accordance with this Part and the Second Schedule.

Determination of charge.

Procedure in committal proceedings.

Committal proceedings not to be held in public.

111. (1) A committal proceeding under section 110, shall not be held in an open or public Court and the Court shall, if the Magistrate thinks that the ends of justice will be served by so doing, order that a person shall not have access to, or be, or remain in the room or place where the committal proceedings are held without the express permission of the Court.

(2) Reporting or publication of committal proceedings is prohibited except to the following extent -

- (a) the identity of the Court and the name of the Magistrate conducting the proceedings;
- (b) the names, addresses and occupation of the parties and witnesses and the ages of the defendant and witnesses but where the offence charged is one of a sexual nature, the names and addresses of the parties shall be excluded;
- (c) the offence with which the defendant is charged or a summary thereof;
- (d) the names of counsel and solicitors engaged in the proceedings;
- (e) any decision of the Court to commit the defendant or any of the defendants for trial or otherwise;
- (f) the Court to which and the charge on which the defendant is committed or a summary of the charge, where the Court so commits the defendant for trial;
- (g) the date and place to which the proceedings are adjourned, in the event of an adjournment; and
- (h) any decision as to the defendant being admitted to bail or being remanded in custody.

112. A Magistrate shall, at the initial appearance of a defendant before a Magistrate Court on summons, warrant or otherwise,-

Proceedings at initial appearance.

- (a) cause the substance of the charge or charges against the defendant to be read to him in an audible voice and in a language which he understands and he shall not be required to take a plea;
- (b) notify the prosecution and the defendant that -
 - (i) the decision to commit the defendant for trial shall be taken not more than 28 days after the initial appearance or at such later date as may be permitted by the Court;
 - (ii) the prosecution shall, not later than 14 days before the date fixed for committal, file in the Court and serve on the defendant copies of all written statements of the witnesses whom the prosecution intends to call at the trial, including those obtained from the defendant and all documents together with a list of all physical and material evidence it intends to tender at the committal hearing;

Provided that such period of 14 days shall be extended for a further period not exceeding 7 days if the prosecution makes such an application before the expiration of the said 14-day period;

- (c) inform the defendant that -

- (i) if after service of the written statements, documents and list referred to in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b), he wishes to object to the use of the written statements, documents and physical and material evidence, he shall do so, not less than 7 days before the date fixed for the committal hearing by filing a notice to that effect in Court;
- (ii) if he wishes to give evidence himself or to call witnesses in his defence at the committal proceedings, he shall, not later than 7 days before the date fixed for the committal hearing, file in the Court and serve on the prosecution, the written statements made by himself and his witnesses.
- (d) release the defendant on bail or remand him in custody in accordance with section 76.

Statements to be provided.

- 113. (1) On the date fixed for committal to the High Court-
- (a) the prosecution shall make available and produce and tender in Court, the written statements, documents and the physical and material evidence itemised in the list referred to in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of section 112;
 - (b) the defendant shall, if he has so elected to take the steps mentioned in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of paragraph (b) of section 112, make available, produce and tender in Court, the written statements made by himself and his witnesses.

- (2) The committing Magistrate shall, -
 - (a) where a defendant elects to take or not to take any of the steps mentioned in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of paragraph (c) of section 112; and
 - (b) if satisfied that the statements and other evidence as to the commission of the offence or any other indictable offence, produced and tendered under paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section (113), are sufficient to put the defendant on trial;

proceed to commit him for trial in the High Court.

(3) The defendant shall, if on the date fixed for the committal hearing, he has indicated in the manner set out in subparagraph (i) of paragraph (c) of section 112 that he wishes to-

- (a) object to any of the prosecution's written statements, documents or other physical evidence, or
- (b) cross-examine a witness or witnesses, state his objection or objections or cross examine the witness or witnesses on that date.

(4) A Magistrate shall take down the objection made under subsection (3) but shall not determine any of the issues raised in it or make it form part of the record.

(5) Where a witness for the prosecution is called on the application of the defendant or his counsel under section 112, -

- (a) the defendant or his counsel shall proceed to cross-examine such witness or witnesses; and
- (b) the prosecution shall be entitled to cross-examine any alibi witness called by the defendant.

(6) The evidence of a witness or witnesses cross-examined under subsection (5) shall be recorded in the form of a deposition which shall be read over and explained to the witness or witnesses in a language which the witness or witnesses understand and witness or witnesses shall then sign the deposition if it is a true record of his evidence and attested to by the Magistrate.

(7) A committing Magistrate shall, where he is of the view that the evidence sufficiently shows the commission of an offence other than that with which the defendant is charged, inform the defendant and record his finding in writing and commit the defendant for trial for that offence.

Form 21
Second
Schedule

(8) Notwithstanding subsection (7) the defendant may, at the close of the prosecution's case, submit to the Court that there is no case to answer.

(9) Where a defendant or his counsel makes a no case submission, under subsection (8), he shall first make his submission and thereafter the prosecuting counsel shall reply and the defendant or his counsel shall not be entitled to say anything further and the committing Magistrate shall decide there and then whether to commit or not and record the reasons for his decision.

(10) The Court shall, where it considers that the evidence against a defendant is not sufficient to put him on trial, forthwith order him to be discharged as to the particular charge but the discharge shall not be a bar to any subsequent charge in respect of the same facts.

Refusal to enter into recognisance.

Form 26
Second
Schedule.

123. The Court may, where a person refuses to enter into a recognisance under section 122, commit him to custody until after the trial, unless in the meantime he enters into a recognisance, but if afterwards, from want of sufficient evidence or other cause, the defendant is discharged, the Court shall also order that the person in custody for so refusing, to be discharged.

PROCEEDINGS UPON RECOGNISANCES

Forfeiture and levy of recognisance.

Form 27&28
Second
Schedule.

124. (1) Where the condition of a recognisance entered into is not complied with, the Court in or before which such condition ought to be performed, may endorse thereon a certificate, addressed to the Sheriff or other officer of the Court, setting forth that such condition has not been performed, and if the amount of the recognisance is not paid within 30 days after service of an order and notice to do so, the amount of the recognisance shall be recoverable by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the recognisor.

(2) In default of the amount being recovered by distress and sale under subsection (1), the recognisor may be imprisoned for a period not exceeding 60 days, but the Court in or before which the condition of a recognisance ought to be performed may cancel or mitigate the forfeiture upon such terms and conditions as the Court may think just.

(3) The Court may, where it is made to appear, by information on oath, that a person bound by recognisance is about to go out of Sierra Leone, cause him to be arrested and commit him to a correctional centre until the trial, unless the Court shall see fit to admit him to bail upon further recognisance.

Register of recognisance.

125. The Court shall maintain a Register of Recognisances which shall include particulars of the names and addresses of recognisors, the date and place at which their appearance or personal appearance is required and the consequences of failure to fulfil the obligation.

PART V-INDICTMENT AND TRIALS IN THE HIGH COURT

Preferment of indictment.

126. (1) An indictment charging a person with an offence triable in the High Court may be preferred where -

- (a) there has been a committal for trial in the High Court consequent upon committal proceedings in accordance with Part IV;
- (b) pursuant to an application, the written consent of a Judge has been obtained;
- (c) the Attorney-General and Minister of Justice has filed an ex-officio information;
- (d) the Anti-Corruption Act, 2008 authorises the Anti-Corruption Commissioner to do so.

(2) Where a defendant has been committed for trial, the indictment may include either in substitution for or in addition to counts charging the offence for which he was committed, any counts founded on facts or evidence disclosed in the written statements and depositions, being counts which may be lawfully joined in the same indictment.

(3) An application shall be made for -

- (a) the preferment of an indictment under paragraph (b) of subsection (1); or
- (b) a warrant of arrest for a defendant in respect of whom an ex-officio information is filed under paragraph (c) of subsection (1).

INDICTMENT

127. (1) Subject to section 126, an indictment charging a person with an offence triable before the High Court may be preferred by a person before a Court in which the person charged may be lawfully indicted for that offence.

Conditions for filing of indictment.

(2) A Law Officer shall, where an indictment has been preferred, unless the defendant has been acquitted and discharged sign the indictment and proceed accordingly:

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), a Judge may, on the application of the prosecutor, direct a Law Officer to sign the indictment and the indictment shall be signed accordingly.

(4) This section shall not be construed so as to derogate from the powers conferred upon the Attorney-General and Minister of Justice by section 64 of the Constitution and on the Director of Public Prosecutions by section 66 of the Constitution and section 45, of this Act.

Filing of indictment and its effects.

128. An indictment, when signed, shall be -

- (a) filed in the High Court;
- (b) equivalent to a statement that all conditions required by law to constitute the offence charged and to give the Court jurisdiction, have been fulfilled.

Endorsement of indictment.

129. The Registrar or any other person directed by the Court shall endorse on or annex to an indictment and every copy of the indictment to be delivered to the Sheriff or Deputy Sheriff for service on a defendant, a notice of trial, which shall be in the following form or as near thereto as may be-

" A.B. TAKE NOTICE that you will be tried on indictment, at the High Court sitting at..... on the.... day of, 20...", whereof this is a true copy.

130. The Registrar or other appropriate officer shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the Sheriff or Under Sheriff, a copy of the indictment with the notice of trial endorsed on it or annexed to it, and if there are more parties charged than one, as many copies as there are parties and the Registrar shall at the same time, furnish the Sheriff or the Deputy-Sheriff with copies of all written statements, depositions and other documentary evidence tendered or used during the committal proceedings.

Copy of indictment and notice of trial to be delivered to Sheriff.

131. (1) The Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff or other appropriate officer authorised by him, shall, after having received a copy of the indictment, notice of trial and the other documents referred to in section 130, serve each defendant with the same and explain to each defendant the nature and contents of the documents so served.

Time and mode of summoning parties on indictment.

(2) The time limited for service of the notice of trial and the other documents shall be, in the case of indictment filed -

- (a) pursuant to committal proceedings, be at least 7 days; and
- (b) without committal proceedings, be at least 14 days, before the day specified in the indictment for trial or within such lesser time as the Court may for good cause order.

(3) The Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff or other appropriate officer shall, where the defendant is not in custody or shall have been admitted to bail and cannot readily be found, leave a copy of the indictment and notice of trial, together with the other documents with someone in the defendant's household for the defendant and if none can be found, affix the copies and notice to the outer or principal door of the known accommodation of the defendant and if the defendant is in custody, the same shall be served on him at the correctional facility or lock-up where he is held.

(4) The period of 7 or 14 days, as the case may be, limited for service of the notice of trial and the other documents may be reduced to a shorter period, with the consent of the person charged.

Return of service.
Form 32
Second Schedule

132. The Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff or other appropriate officer serving the copy of the indictment, notice and other documents shall immediately file a return in the High Court Criminal Registry

Postponement of trial respiting recognisances.

133. The Court may, upon the application of the prosecutor or the defence, if it considers that there is sufficient cause for the delay, postpone the trial of a defendant to be held at a time and place to be named at the time of granting such postponement and respite the recognisances of the prosecutor and witnesses, in which case the respited recognisances shall have the same force and effect as fresh recognisances to prosecute and give evidence at any such subsequent date would have had.

Mode of Trial.

133A. A person charged with a criminal offence at the High Court shall, be tried by a Judge alone, unless such person shall have elected to betried, or shall have been notified to be tried by the Court with the aid of Assessors in accordance with section 133B.

Trial by Judge with the aid of assessors or by instance of Attorney-General.

133B. (1) A person charged with an offence may, at the time of being committed or referred for trial or at any time thereafter up to 2 clear days at least before the trial of such person, elect to be tried by a Judge with the aid of assessors and if a person shall so elect he shall be tried by a Judge with the aid of assessors instead of being tried by a Judge alone.

(2) The Attorney-General and Minister of Justice or the Director of Public Prosecutions may, notwithstanding anything contained in section 133A, where a person is charged at the High Court with a criminal offence, file a notice to the Court for the defendant to be tried by that Court with the aid of assessors, and the defendant shall be so tried by the Court with the aid of assessors instead of by a Judge alone.

Change of election, etc.

133C. (1) Section 133B shall not deprive a person of his rights under section 133A to change his election and a person who has elected to be tried by a Judge with the aid of assessors may afterwards re-elect to be tried by Judge alone if he changes his election 2 days before trial, otherwise his change of election shall have no effect.

(2) Where 2 or more persons are charged jointly if they do not all duly elect to be tried by the Court with the aid of assessors, they shall be tried by Judge alone.

ARRAIGNMENT

134. A person to be tried on an indictment shall be placed at the bar unfettered, unless the Court shall see cause to order otherwise and the indictment or charge shall be read to him by the Registrar or other officer of the Court and explained, if need be, by the officer or the interpreter of the Court and such person shall be required to plead to the indictment, unless he objects on the basis of want of service of the indictment and in which case, the Court shall ascertain that he has not been duly served.

Pleading to indictment.

135. (1) A person shall, by pleading generally the plea of -

Effect of plea of not guilty.

- (a) "not guilty", be deemed to have put himself upon his trial; and
- (b) autrefois convict or autrefois acquit, it shall be sufficient for a person to state that he has been lawfully convicted or acquitted, as the case may be, of the offence charged in the indictment.

(2) After a plea of not guilty it shall not be open to a defendant, except with the leave of the Court, to object that he is not properly upon his trial by reason of some defect, omission or irregularity relating to or arising out of the process leading to his trial.

136. The Court shall, where a defendant stands mute or refuses by reason of mental or physical disability to answer directly to the indictment unless it has reason to believe that the defendant is of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, order the Registrar to enter a plea of not guilty on behalf of the defendant and the plea so entered shall have the same force and effect as if the defendant had actually pleaded not guilty. But if the Court has reason to believe that the defendant is of unsound mind or psychologically disturbed, it shall proceed in the manner prescribed in section 68.

Where defendant refuses or is unable to plead.

Conduct and precedence of prosecutions.

137. (1) Prosecutions on indictment in the High Court shall be conducted by a Law Officer or a legal practitioner.

(2) Indictment signed by a Law Officer, otherwise than at the instance of any other person, shall be heard in the order they are presented by the Law Officer and assessors shall not be selected for such case until it has been so presented.

Defendant to be released on bail or discharged if not tried within a certain period of time.

138. (1) Where a defendant committed for trial in the High Court for an offence for which the sentence is life imprisonment is not put on trial within 90 days after the date of his committal, he shall, if in a correctional center, on his application by way of motion made on the last day of such period, or any day thereafter, be admitted to bail unless it is made to appear to the Court on oath, before the end of the 90-day period that the prosecution witnesses or any of them could not have been brought before the Court or for some other reason.

(2) Where a defendant on trial in the High Court for an offence other than an offence for which the penalty is life imprisonment is not tried by the end of the 180 day period after the defendant's first appearance in the High Court, he shall, be entitled on the expiration of the 180 days period to be acquitted or discharged unless the Court sees good reason to the contrary.

(3) In the case of persons who are charged jointly, if one or more have elected in accordance with section 142 to be tried by a Judge with the aid of assessors, he or they may withdraw that election and elect to be tried by a Judge alone provided this change of election is made before the time allowed has expired, otherwise the change of election shall have no effect.

AMENDMENT

Order for amendment of indictment.

139. (1) Where, before trial upon indictment or at any stage of the trial, it appears to the Court that the indictment is defective in a material particular or the evidence discloses an offence other than the offence with which the defendant is charged, the Court shall make such order for the amendment of the indictment as the Court thinks necessary to meet the circumstances of the case, unless having regard to the merits of the case, the required amendments cannot be made without injustice.

(2) An amendment under subsection (1), shall -

- (a) be made upon such terms that the Court thinks just; and
- (b) include the addition, substitution or deletion of a count if the evidence so warrants.

(3) Where an indictment is amended, Court shall -

- (a) endorse a note of the amendment on the indictment and the indictment shall be treated for the purposes of all proceedings in connection with the indictment as having been filed in the amended form; and

(b) call on the defendant to plead to the amended

(4) Where an amendment of an indictment is made under subsection (1) and the Court is of the opinion that the defendant may be prejudiced or embarrassed in his defence by reason of the amendment, the Court may allow any witness to be recalled and further questioned upon any matter relevant to the amended indictment.

140. (1) Where before a trial upon indictment or at any stage of the trial the Court is of the opinion that a defendant charged with more than one offence in separate indictment, may not be prejudiced or embarrassed in his defence by reason of being charged in the same indictment with different counts or that for any other reason it is desirable to direct that one or more of the offences be tried jointly in the same indictment, the Court may order the joint trial of the offences in the same indictment.

(2) Where before a trial upon indictment or at any stage of the trial the Court is of the opinion that one or more of the defendants charged in separate indictment, may not be prejudiced or embarrassed in his defence by reason of being charged together with another person or other persons in a count or in the same indictment or that for any other reason it is desirable to direct that one or more defendants be tried jointly, the Court may order the joint trial of the defendants.

(3) Where an order is made under this section, the Court shall order -

- (a) the discharge of the defendant or defendants in respect of the earlier indictment;
- (b) that the prosecution files a fresh indictment and serve on the defendant or defendants with a copy or copies, not later than 7 days from the date of the Order; and
- (c) that the trial shall commence de novo.

Order for separate trial.

141. Where before a trial upon indictment or at any stage of the trial the Court is of the opinion that -

- (a) the defendant may be prejudiced or embarrassed in his defence by reason of being charged with more than one offence in the same indictment or that for any other reason it is desirable to direct that the defendant should be tried separately for any one or more of the offences charged in the indictment, the Court may order a separate trial of any count or counts of the indictment; or
- (b) one or more of the defendants may be prejudiced or embarrassed in his defence by reason of being charged together with another person or other persons in one count or in the same indictment or that for any other reason it is desirable to direct that one or more defendants should be tried separately for any one or more of the offences charged in the indictment, the Court may order a separate trial of the defendants.

142. Where before a trial upon indictment the Court is of the opinion that the postponement of the trial of the defendant is expedient as a consequence of the exercise of a power of the Court under this Act, the Court shall make such order as to the postponement of the trial as appears necessary.

Order for postponement of trial.

143. (1) Where an order of the Court is made under section 141 for a separate trial or section 142 for postponement of a trial-

Court may dispense with assessors.

- (a) if the order is made during a trial with assessors, the Court may order that the assessors be discharged from giving an opinion, as the case may be, on the count or counts on the indictment or the trial of which is postponed; and
- (b) the procedure on the -
 - (i) separate trial of a count shall be the same in all respects as if the count had been contained in a separate indictment;
 - (ii) separate trial of a defendant shall be the same in all respects as if the defendant had been charged in a separate indictment; and provided that the assessors, if any, have been discharged;

- (c) the Court may make an order admitting the defendant to bail and for the enlargement of recognisances or otherwise, as the Court thinks fit.

(2) The power of the Court under sections 141, 142 and this section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any other power of the Court for the same or similar purposes.

Motion in arrest of judgment.

144. (1) A defendant may, at any time before sentence, whether on his plea of guilty or otherwise, move a motion in arrest of Judgment on the ground that the indictment does not, after an amendment which the Court has made and had power to make, state an offence which the Court has power to try.

(2) The Court may either hear and determine the motion for arrest of Judgment during the same sitting or adjourn the hearing to a future time to be fixed for that purpose.

(3) Where the Court decides in favour of the defendant, the defendant shall be discharged from the indictment, but the discharge shall not operate as a bar to any subsequent proceedings against him on the same facts.

Objections cured by verdict.

145. A Judgment shall not be stayed or reversed on the ground of an objection, which if stated after the indictment was read to the defendant or during the progress of the trial, might have been amended by the Court, nor because of an informality in swearing the witnesses or any of them.

TRIAL WITH ASSESSORS

Selection of assessors.

146. (1) Where a trial is to be held with the aid of assessors, the assessors shall be persons who are experts in a discipline relevant to the matter before the Court, the number not being less than 3, to sit as assessors and assist the Judge in the trial.

(2) The defendant may object to an assessor selected under subsection (1), and the Court shall refuse to allow that assessor to sit if the grounds for the objection are substantial and reasonable.

Decision of Court and assessors.

147. In a trial with the aid of assessors, the decision of the Judge, on matters arising from the trial shall have the same force and effect as the verdict of the Judge alone.

148. (1) Where in the course of a trial with the aid of assessors, at any time prior to the finding, an assessor, for sufficient cause, is prevented from attending throughout the trial, the trial shall, with the consent of the prosecution and of the defence, proceed with the aid of the remaining assessors. Trial to proceed despite assessors unable to attend.

(2) Where 2 or more of the assessors are prevented from attending or absent themselves, the proceedings shall be stayed and a new trial shall be held with the aid of fresh assessors.

149. (1) The Court may from time to time adjourn a trial, if necessary. Adjournment necessary.

(2) In the event of an adjournment, the assessors shall be required to attend at the adjourned sitting and at every subsequent sitting until the conclusion of the trial.

CASE FOR THE PROSECUTION

150. Where in a trial by judge with the aid of assessors or by a judge alone, the defendant has pleaded to the indictment, the prosecution shall open the case against the defendant and shall call witnesses and adduce evidence in support of the charge. Opening of case for the prosecution.

151. (1) Where the prosecutor is of the opinion that there is additional material or necessary witness in a trial, other than those mentioned on the back of the indictment, the prosecutor may call the witness before the trial Court upon giving notice of his intention to do so together with the written statement of the witness to the Registrar of the Court and the defendant. Additional witnesses on the back of indictment.

(2) The notice of intention and the written statement of the witness shall be served on the defence not later than 48 hours before the date on which the additional witness is to give evidence; otherwise, that witness shall not be called.

152. A witnesses called for the prosecution shall be subject to cross-examination by or on behalf of the defendant and to re-examination on behalf of the prosecution. Cross-Examination of prosecution witnesses.

Committal warrant to be tendered.

153. (1) A committal warrant duly signed by a Magistrate, including a statement made by the defendant before the Magistrate, shall be tendered in evidence by the prosecution before the close of it's case.

(2) Where a trial commenced without committal proceedings, the order of the Judge to-

- (a) give his consent for the preferment of the indictment and arrest of the defendant;
- (b) fix the date of the trial; or
- (c) arrest the defendant and fix the date of the trial in the case of an ex-officio information filed by the Attorney-General and Minister of Justice shall be tendered by the prosecution before the close of the it's case.

(3) Where a Court orders the joint trial of offences charged in separate indictment, or, for defendants charged in separate indictments, that order shall be tendered by the prosecution before the close of it's case, in addition to the committal warrant or order of the Judge made pursuant to section 126.

Submission of no case

154. (1) Where at the close of the prosecution's case,-

- (a) the defendant or his counsel makes a no case submission in respect of a count or counts in the indictment or the whole of the indictment and the Judge is of the opinion that there is not sufficient evidence that the defendant has committed an offence of which he could be lawfully convicted in respect of the count or counts in the indictment or the whole of the indictment, the Judge shall forthwith acquit the defendant in respect of the count or counts in the indictment or the whole of the indictment;

- (b) in a trial by a judge with the aid of assessors, the Judge is of the opinion that the prosecution's evidence in respect of a count or counts in the indictment or the whole of the indictment is such that insufficient evidence has been adduced he shall acquit the defendant in respect of the count or counts in the indictment or the whole of the indictment.

(2) Where a defendant or his counsel makes a no case submission, he shall first make his submissions and thereafter prosecuting counsel shall reply and the defendant or his counsel shall not be entitled to say anything further.

CASE FOR THE DEFENCE

155. (1) At the close of the evidence for the prosecution, if a no case submission under section 154 is unsuccessful, or, has not been made, the Court shall inform the defendant of his right to -

- (a) address the Court;
- (b) give evidence on oath or by affirmation on his own behalf;
- (c) make a statement without being sworn or without affirming; or
- (d) inform the Court that he has nothing more to say or that he relies on the statement or statements he has made to the police or prosecuting authority.

(2) The Judge shall -

- (a) inform the defendant that irrespective of whichever of the options in subsection (1) he chooses, he has a right to call witnesses; and inform

his right at close of prosecution's case.

- (b) record the option chosen by the defendant and proceed in the manner set out in section 156.

Evidence of defendant.

156. (1) Where a defendant does not intend to call witnesses but intends to give evidence himself, he shall be called upon to open his case and he shall proceed to give evidence.

(2) Where a defendant has stated that he intends to call witnesses and give evidence, he shall give evidence before proceeding to call his witnesses.

(3) Where a defendant intends to call witnesses but does not wish to give evidence himself, he shall proceed to call his witnesses.

(4) A witness called by the defendant may be a witness as to fact or as to character.

(5) A defendant and a witness called by the defence shall be subject to cross-examination by or on behalf of the prosecution and to re-examination on behalf of the defence.

Addresses by defence and prosecution.

157. (1) Where a defendant gives evidence but does not call witnesses, the prosecution shall address the Court first and the defendant or his counsel shall thereafter address the Court.

(2) Where a defendant calls witnesses, the defendant or his counsel shall address the Court first and the prosecution shall thereafter address the Court.

Addresses by co-defendants.

158. Where 2 or more defendants are tried jointly and one or more of the defendants call witnesses, the order of speeches shall be the same as if all defendants called witnesses.

Defendant entitle to compel attendance of witnesses.

159. (1) A defendant shall be entitled to apply for the issue of process to compel the attendance of a witness.

(2) A defendant shall not be entitled to an adjournment to secure the attendance of a witness unless he shows that he could not by reasonable diligence have taken earlier steps to obtain the presence of the witness.

160. (1) The Court may, in its discretion, where-Rebutting evidence.

(a) at the close of the evidence for the defence;
or

(b) evidence of good character has been given;

grant the prosecutor leave to call rebutting evidence, where something has arisen ex-improviso, in the course of the defence.

(2) Where evidence in rebuttal is given by the prosecution under subsection (1), counsel for the defence shall be entitled to comment on the evidence so given.

CLOSE OF HEARING IN CASES TRIED WITH ASSESSORS

161. (1) The Judge shall, where, in a case tried with assessors, the case on both sides is closed, sum up the evidence for the prosecution and the defence and shall then require each of the assessors to state his opinion orally and shall record their opinion but the decision on which the judgement is based shall be vested exclusively in the Judge.

Delivery of opinion by assessors.

(2) The Judge shall then give judgment and in so doing shall not be bound to conform with the opinions of the assessors, but he shall record his judgment in writing and in every case the judgment shall contain the point or points for determination, the decision thereon and the reasons for the decision, and shall be dated and signed by the Judge at the time of pronouncing it.

(3) Where a defendant is found not guilty, the Judge shall record a judgment of acquittal.

(4) Where the defendant is found guilty, the Judge shall sentence him according to law.

CLOSE OF HEARING IN CASES TRIED BY JUDGE ALONE

Judgement in trial by Judge alone.

162. (1) The Judge shall, in a trial by Judge alone, proceed to deliver a written judgment.

(2) Where a defendant is found not guilty, the Judge shall record a judgment of acquittal.

(3) Where the defendant is found guilty, the Judge shall sentence him according to law.

ALLOCUTUS

Allocutus

163. The Registrar or other officer of the Court shall, where in a trial by Judge sitting with assessors or sitting alone, the defendant is found guilty or the defendant pleads guilty, ask the defendant whether he has anything to say as to why sentence should not be passed upon him according to law:

Provided that the omission so to ask him shall have no effect on the validity of the proceedings.

EVIDENCE BEFORE SENTENCE

Evidence before sentence.

164. The Court shall, before passing sentence, receive such evidence as it thinks fit, in order to inform itself as to the proper sentence to be passed.

PART VI-SPECIAL TRIALS-TRIAL OF CORPORATIONS OR COMPANIES

Representation of corporation or company.

165. (1) In this Part, the expression "representative" in relation to a corporation or company means a person duly appointed by the corporation or company to represent it for the purpose of doing an act or thing which the representative is by this Part authorised to do but a person so appointed shall not by virtue only of being so appointed, be qualified to act on behalf of the corporation or company before a Court for any other purpose.

(2) A representative for the purposes of this Part need not be appointed under the seal of the corporation or company and a statement in writing purporting to be signed by a managing director of the corporation or company or by a person in control of the management of the affairs of the corporation or company, to the effect that the person named in the statement has been appointed as the representative of the corporation or company for the purposes of this Part shall be admissible, without further proof, as prima facie evidence that that person has been so appointed.

166. (1) A corporation or company may be charged either alone or jointly with another person with an offence triable on indictment or triable summarily before a Magistrate Court. Proceedings against corporation or company.

(2) A representative may, on behalf of a corporation or company make a statement before the Court in answer to the charge.

(3) Where a representative appears, a requirement of this Act that anything shall be done in the presence of the defendant or shall be read or said to the defendant shall be construed as a requirement that the thing shall be done in the presence of the representative or read or said to the representative.

(4) Where a representative does not appear, a requirement under subsection (3) or a requirement that the consent of the defendant shall be obtained for summary trial, shall be dealt with in the same manner as if the defendant was a natural person, but not for the purpose of issuing a warrant for arrest.

(5) Where a person is charged jointly with a corporation or company with an offence triable on indictment and either that person or the corporation or company by its representative does not consent that the offence should be dealt with summarily under section 6 of the Courts Act, 1965, the Court shall not have power to deal summarily with the offence in the case of the other defendant.

(6) Where a corporation or company is charged with an offence triable on indictment or triable summarily, the corporation or company may, on arraignment before the High Court or on being asked to plead by the Magistrate, as the case may be, enter in writing by its representative a plea of guilty or not guilty, and if either the corporation or company does not appear by a representative or though it does so appear fails to enter a plea, the Court shall order a plea of not guilty to be entered and the trial shall proceed as though the corporation or company had duly entered a plea of not guilty.

Fines on corporation or company.

167. (1) A corporation or company that is convicted of an offence shall, in lieu of a term of imprisonment that is prescribed as the punishment for that offence or where no fine is prescribed, be fined in an amount that is in the discretion of the Court where the offence is triable on indictment and where tried summarily, to a fine within the jurisdiction of Magistrate Court.

(2) The prosecutor may, where a fine imposed under subsection (1) is not paid on the filing of the conviction, enter as a judgment, the amount of the fine and costs in the High Court and that judgment shall be enforceable against the corporation or company in the same manner as if it were a judgment entered against the corporation or company in the High Court in a civil proceeding.

Service of documents.

168. Where a corporation or company is charged with an offence triable on indictment or summarily, an indictment, summons or other document requiring to be served on the corporation or company in connection with the proceedings shall be served by leaving it at or sending it by registered post to the registered office of the corporation or company, or if there is no such office in Sierra Leone, by leaving it at or by sending it by post to the corporation or company at a place at which it trades or conducts its business in Sierra Leone.

TRIAL OF CHILDREN

169. A child accused of a criminal offence shall be apprehended and tried in accordance with the Children and Young Persons Act (Cap 44) or any other enactment for the time being in force relating to the trial of children. Trial of a child.

PART VII - EXECUTION OF SENTENCES-ALTERNATIVE SENTENCES

170. (1) A warrant under the hand of a Judge or Magistrate by whom a person is sentenced, ordering that the sentence is carried out in a correctional centre within Sierra Leone, shall be sufficient authority to the keeper of such correctional centre and to all other persons for carrying into effect the sentence described in the warrant. Authority for carrying out sentence.

(2) Except where express provision is made to the contrary, every sentence shall be deemed to commence from and to include the whole of the day of the date on which it was pronounced.

(3) The length of a term of imprisonment imposed by the sentence of a Court shall be treated as reduced by a period during which the person convicted was in custody before sentence.

171. (1) Where a Court passes a sentence of imprisonment for an offence for which the term of imprisonment does not exceed 2 years, the Court may order that the sentence be suspended and that it shall not take effect from the date of the Order, unless within one year of the order, the defendant commits another offence punishable with imprisonment. Suspended sentences.

(2) Where a Court suspends a sentence under subsection (1) and the defendant commits another offence punishable with imprisonment within the period of one year, the Court shall order that the sentence takes effect as of the date specified in that Order.

(3) The Court shall, when passing a suspended sentence, explain to the defendant in ordinary language, his liability that if during the suspension period he commits an offence punishable with imprisonment, he shall be liable to serve the original term of imprisonment, if found guilty at the subsequent trial.

(4) A person whose term of imprisonment has been suspended shall be deemed to be sentenced to a term of imprisonment for the purpose of any other law.

Deferred sentences.

172. (1) A Court may defer passing sentence on a convicted person where the -

- (a) maximum sentence of the offence in respect of which the person is convicted does not exceed 2 years;
- (b) convicted person consents to deferment of the sentence; and
- (c) Court is satisfied, having regard to the nature of the offence and the character and circumstances of the convicted person, it would be in the interest of justice to exercise the power.

(2) A deferment of a sentence under subsection (1), shall-

- (a) be to a date specified by the Court which date shall not be more than 6 months after the date so specified; and
- (b) not to be further deferred except in cases where the convicted person is pregnant; or
- (c) the convicted person applies for further deferment for special or specific reasons.

(3) Where a Court defers passing sentence on a convicted person under subsection (1), it shall not, on the same occasion, remand him in custody.

(4) The Court shall, when passing of sentence on a convicted person is deferred, deal with the person, at the end of the period of deferment, in a way in which it could have dealt with him if it had not deferred passing sentence.

(5) Nothing in this section dealing with a deferred sentence or in section 175 dealing with the commission of an offence after a conditional discharge, shall affect the power of -

- (a) the High Court to bind over a convicted person to come up for judgment when called upon; or
- (b) a Court to defer passing sentence for any purpose for which it may lawfully do so apart from this section.

173. (1) The Court may, where it defers passing sentence on a convicted person under section 172, call up the convicted person for sentence before the end of the period of deferment, if during that period the convicted person is convicted of another offence.

Further powers of courts where sentence is deferred.

(2) The Court may, where it defers passing sentence on a convicted person for an offence committed during the period of deferment, also, if this has not already been done, sentence the convicted person for the offence for which sentence was deferred:

Provided that -

- (a) a Magistrate Court shall not exercise the power conferred under this subsection if the Court which deferred passing sentence was the High Court;
- (b) the High Court shall not pass a sentence -

- (i) which could not have been passed by a Magistrate Court exercising that power; and
- (ii) if the Court which deferred passing sentence was the Magistrate Court.

(3) The Court may where-

- (a) it has deferred passing sentence on a convicted person proposes to deal with him under section 172 -
 - (i) on the date specified by the Court pursuant to subsection (2) of section 172;
 - (ii) before the end of the period of deferment pursuant to subsection (1);
- (b) the convicted person does not appear on the date so specified; issue a summons for the appearance or a warrant for the arrest of the convicted person.

(4) A Magistrate Court shall, in deferring the passing of sentence under section 172, be deemed to be exercising its powers of adjourning proceedings and accordingly its powers in relation to non-appearance of defendants and witnesses shall apply.

(5) The power of a Court to deal with a convicted person whose sentence has been deferred includes the power to deal with him, in a way in which the Court that, deferred passing sentence could have dealt with him.

174. (1) Where a Magistrate Court before which a person is convicted of an offence for which the term of imprisonment does not exceed 2 years or by the High Court for an offence not involving life imprisonment or is not of a sexual nature, is of the opinion, having regard to the circumstances including the nature of the offence and the character of the defendant, that it is inexpedient to inflict punishment, the Court may make an order either discharging him -

Absolute and conditional discharge.

- (a) absolutely; or
- (b) subject to the condition that he commits no offence within 2 years from the date of the order.

(2) An order discharging a person under paragraph (b) of subsection (1), shall be referred to as an "Order for Conditional Discharge" and the period specified in the Order for Conditional Discharge shall be referred to as "the Period of Conditional Discharge".

(3) The Court shall, before making an order for conditional discharge under subsection (1), explain to the convicted person that if he commits another offence during the period of conditional discharge he will be liable to be sentenced for the offence for which he was discharged.

(4) Where a person conditionally discharged is sentenced for the offence in respect of which the Order for Conditional Discharge was made, the Order shall cease to have effect.

(5) The Court may, on making an Order for Conditional Discharge, if it thinks it expedient for the purpose of the convicted person's reformation, allow a person who consents to do so to give security for the good behaviour of the convicted person.

(6) A Court may, on discharging a convicted person absolutely or conditionally, make an order for costs against that person or imposing a disqualification on him or an order for compensation or restitution.

Commission of offence after conditional discharge.

175. (1) The Court may, where it appears that a person in respect of whom an Order for Conditional Discharge has been made has been convicted of an offence committed during the Period of Conditional discharge issue -

- (a) a summons requiring that person to appear at the place and time specified in the summons; or
- (b) a warrant for his arrest.

(2) A summons or warrant issued under subsection (1), shall direct that the person to whom it relates appear or be brought before the Court by which the Order for Conditional Discharge was made.

(3) A Magistrate Court shall, where a person in respect of whom an Order for Conditional Discharge has been made by the High Court is convicted by the Magistrate Court of an offence committed during the Period of Conditional Discharge, -

- (a) commit him to custody or release him on bail until he can be brought before the High Court; and
- (b) send to the High Court a copy of the magisterial notes or records and the Order of the Magistrate Court in respect of the conviction signed by the Registrar or other officer of the Court.

(4) Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court by which an Order for Conditional Discharge was made that the person in whose case the Order was made has been convicted of an offence committed during the Period of Conditional Discharge, the Court may deal with him, for the offence for which the order was made, in a way in which it could deal with him if he had just been convicted by or before that Court of that offence.

(5) Where a person in respect of whom an Order for Conditional Discharge has been made by a Magistrate Court is convicted before the High Court of an offence committed during the Period of the Conditional Discharge, the High Court may deal with him, for the offence for which Conditional Discharge has been made by the Magistrate Court, in a way in which the Magistrate Court could have dealt with him if it had just convicted him of that offence.

(6) Where a person in respect of whom an Order for Conditional Discharge has been made by a Magistrate Court is convicted by another Magistrate Court of an offence committed during the Period of Conditional Discharge, that other Magistrate Court may, with the consent of the Court which made the Order, deal with him, for the offence for which the Order was made, in a way in which the Court could have dealt with him if it had just convicted him of that offence.

176. (1) A conviction of an offence for which an order is made under section 174 discharging a defendant absolutely or conditionally shall be deemed not to be a conviction for a purpose other than the purposes of the proceedings in which the Order is made and of any subsequent proceedings which may be taken against the defendant under this Act: ^{Effect of discharge.}

Provided that where a person aged 18 or over at the time of his conviction is subsequently sentenced for that offence, he shall be a convicted person.

(2) Without prejudice to subsection (1), the conviction of a defendant who is discharged absolutely or conditionally under section 174 shall in any event be disregarded for the purposes of an enactment which -

- (a) imposes a disqualification or disability upon convicted persons; or
- (b) authorises or requires the imposition of such disqualification or disability.

- (3) Subsections (1) and (2) shall not affect-
- (a) a right of a defendant discharged absolutely or conditionally, to rely on his conviction as a bar to subsequent proceedings for the same offence; or
 - (b) the restoration of property in consequence of the conviction of such person.

Community
punishment
orders.

177. (1) Where a person is convicted of an offence for which the term of imprisonment does not exceed 2 years, the Court by or before which he is convicted may make a Community Punishment Order, requiring him to perform unpaid work including, working on youth projects, old people's homes, correctional and state farms, cleaning public places, such as the House of Parliament, hospitals, beaches and painting of public buildings and road signs, in such manner and for such period as the Court may think fit.

(2) The number of days which a person may be required to work under a Community Punishment Order shall be specified in the Order and shall in the aggregate not exceed 60 days.

(3) A Court shall not make a Community Punishment Order in respect of a convicted person unless the Court is satisfied that -

- (a) the convicted person is suitable to perform the unpaid work; and
- (b) there is adequate provision for the convicted person to perform the unpaid work.

(4) The Court may, where it makes Community Punishment Orders in respect of 2 or more offences of which a defendant has been convicted by or before it, direct that the days of work specified in any of those Orders shall be concurrent with or be in addition to those specified in the Orders, but such that the number of days which are concurrent shall in the aggregate not exceed 60 days.

(5) A Court shall, before making a Community Punishment Order, explain to the convicted person -

- (a) the purpose and effect of the Order;
- (b) the requirements of the Order;
- (c) the consequences of failure to comply with any of the requirements of the Order; and
- (d) the power of the Court to review the Order.

(6) A Court shall, upon the making of a Community Punishment Order, give copies of the Order to the person convicted and to the officer or authority responsible for the supervision of the Community Punishment Order.

178. (1) A Community Punishment Order made under section 177 shall state that the convicted person shall -

Obligations under Community
Punishment
Order.

- (a) be under the supervision and direction of the officer or authority responsible for the supervision of the Community Punishment Order;
- (b) perform such work and for such period of time as specified in the Community Punishment Order; and
- (c) notify the officer or authority responsible for the supervision of the Community Punishment Order of any change of address of the convicted person.

(2) A Community Punishment Order made under section 177 shall state that the officer or authority responsible for the supervision of the Community Punishment Order shall, as far as practicable be such as to avoid -

- (a) conflict with the requirements of any other Community Punishment Order to which the convicted person may be subject; and

- (b) interference with the times, if any, at which the convicted person normally works or attends school or any other educational or vocational training institution.

(3) Subject to this Act, the work required to be performed under a Community Punishment Order shall be performed within one year starting from the date of the Order and unless otherwise revoked and shall remain in force until the convicted person has fully complied with the terms of the Order.

Fine in lieu of imprisonment.

179. A Court may, where a person is convicted of an offence punishable by imprisonment, other than an offence for which the sentence is fixed by law, sentence that person to a fine, in addition to or in lieu of any other punishment to which that person is liable.

Notice of fines to be paid.

180. (1) A Court shall, where upon conviction, it orders money to be paid as a fine or as a penalty or as an alternative to a term of imprisonment, by the convicted person, by notice in writing, state the amount of the penalty, the date on or before which payment is required and the place or places and times at which payment may be made and if payment by instalments is directed, particulars of the instalments.

(2) The Registrar or clerk of the Court shall, where a Court orders money to be paid under subsection (1) and the convicted person is not present at the time of the conviction, as soon as may be thereafter deliver to that person or send by post addressed to him at his last or usual place of residence, a notice in writing stating the amount of the penalty, the date on or before which payment is required and the place or places and times at which payment may be made, and if payment by instalments is directed, particulars of the instalments.

Order for payment of money.

181. (1) A Court may, where it orders money to be paid by a convicted person-

- (a) for the expenses of his prosecution; or
(b) by way of compensation or otherwise;

either order immediate payment, allow time for payment or direct payment to be made by installments.

(2) Where the money is directed to be paid by installments and default is made in the payment of any one installment, all installments then remaining unpaid shall become immediately due.

(3) Money due under subsection (1) may be levied on the goods and chattels of the person ordered to pay the money by distress and sale under warrant and in a case in which a warrant of distress is issued by the Court under this section the Court may either allow the person to go free verbally or, by warrant in that behalf, order him to be kept in custody, for a period not exceeding 48 hours at any one time, until return is made to the warrant of distress.

Form 33
Second
Schedule

(4) A person ordered to pay money under subsection (1) may pay or tender to the Bailiff or other duly authorised officer having the execution of the warrant, the sum mentioned in the warrant together with the amount of the expenses of the distress up to the time of payment or tender and thereupon the officer shall cease to execute the warrant.

182. Where the Bailiff or other duly authorised officer having the execution of the warrant reports that he could not find goods and chattels on which to levy the money mentioned in the warrant with expenses, the Court may by the same or a subsequent warrant commit the person ordered to pay, to a correctional centre for a period specified in the warrant, not exceeding 48 hours at any one time, unless the money and all expenses of the distress, commitment and conveyance to a correctional centre, to be specified in the warrant, are sooner paid.

- (c) there are other sufficient reasons, instead of, or, after issuing a warrant of distress; commit the person ordered to pay to a correctional centre for a period specified in the warrant, unless the money and all expenses of the commitment and conveyance to the correctional centre, to be specified in the warrant, are sooner paid.

Fines, detention in police station in lieu of imprisonment.

184. (1) The Court may, in any circumstances in which it has power upon conviction to issue a warrant of commitment to a correctional centre in respect of the non-payment of a fine or penalty, in lieu of issuing a warrant of commitment to a correctional centre, issue a warrant of detention in a police station.

(2) A warrant of detention in a police station issued under subsection (1) shall authorise -

- (a) the Police Officer holding the warrant, unless the sum mentioned in the warrant, with the amount of expenses authorised in it is sooner paid and a duly authorised receipt is issued for that purpose, to convey the person named in the warrant to an appropriate police station and for that purpose to arrest him; and
- (b) the officer in charge of a police station to detain the person named in the warrant until 8 O'clock in the morning on the day following that on which the person named in the warrant is arrested under the warrant or, if he is so arrested between mid-night and 8 O'clock in the morning, on that day.

(4) The officer in charge of the police station in which the person named in the warrant is detained under this section may discharge him at any time within 2 hours before 8 O'clock in the morning if the officer thinks it expedient to do so in order to enable the person detained to go to his employment or for any other reason appearing to the officer to be sufficient.

185. A statement in writing to the effect that wages of an amount have been paid to a person ordered to pay during a period, purporting to be signed by or on behalf of his employer, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated in the statement in any proceedings taken before the Court for the enforcement of the payment on that person to whom the wages are stated to have been paid, of a fine or penalty upon a conviction. Statements of wages to be evidence.

186. A person committed for non-payment may pay the sum mentioned in the warrant, with the amount of expenses therein authorised to the person in whose custody he is and that person shall thereupon issue to him a duly authorised receipt and then discharge him if he is in custody for no other matter. Payment in full after commitment.

187. (1) Where a person committed to a correctional centre for non-payment has paid or shall pay a sum in part satisfaction of the sum adjudged to be paid, the period of his imprisonment shall be reduced by a number of days bearing as nearly as possible the same proportion to the total number of days for which that person is committed, as the sum so paid bears to the sum for which he is liable. Part payment after commitment.

(2) The keeper of a correctional centre in which a person is confined who is desirous of taking advantage of subsection (1) shall, on application being made by that person, at once take him before a Court, and the Court shall certify the amount by which the period of imprisonment originally awarded is reduced by such payment in part in satisfaction and shall make such order as is required in the circumstances.

(3) The Rules of Court Committee, shall by statutory instrument make rules for carrying out the provisions of sections 182 to 186 inclusive.

188. A commitment for non-payment shall not be for a longer period than 6 months, except where the law under which the conviction has taken place enjoins or allows a longer period. Limitation of imprisonment. Form 36 Second Schedule

Direct imprisonment. Form 37 Second Schedule

189. Where a sentence or conviction does not order the payment of money but orders that the defendant be imprisoned, the Court shall issue a warrant of commitment accordingly.

Address and execution of warrants.

190. (1) A warrant to enforce the payment of money due in respect of fines, penalties and forfeited recognisances shall be sufficiently addressed for execution by being directed, in the case of;

- (a) the Western Area to the Sheriff, Under Sheriff, or Deputy Sheriff; and
- (b) the Provinces to the Assistant Sheriff or the Assistant Inspector-General of Police of the Region.

(2) A warrant under subsection (1), may be delivered to Police Officers for execution.

Enforcement of warrant.

191. A warrant under section 190 shall -

- (a) be valid and effectual throughout Sierra Leone, wherever the person against whom the warrant is issued, or where goods and chattels of such person may be found; and
- (b) if issued by a Magistrate Court, be enforced by a Magistrate Court in other Districts in which the person against whom the warrant or goods and chattels of that person, may be found.

FIRST SCHEDULE

The Criminal Procedure Rules.

Section 49

GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. Figures and abbreviations may be used in an information or indictment for expressing anything which is commonly expressed thereby. Use of figures and abbreviations.

2. (1) A description of the offence charged in an information or indictment or where more than one offence is so charged, of each offence so charged, shall be set out in the information or indictment in a separate paragraph called a count. Mode in which offences are charged.

(2) A count of an information or indictment shall commence with a statement of the offence charged, called the statement of offence.

(3) The statement of offence shall described the offence shortly in ordinary language, avoiding as far as possible the use of technical terms, and without necessarily stating all the essential elements of the offence, and if the offence charged is one created by enactment shall contain a reference to the section of the enactment creating the offence.

(4) After the statement of the offence particulars of such offence shall be set out in ordinary language, in which the use of technical terms shall not be necessary:

Provided that -

- (a) where any rule of law or any Act or statute limits the particulars of an offence which are required to be given in an information or indictment, nothing in this rule shall require any more particulars to be given than those so required;
- (b) it shall be sufficient if only the words of the section of the enactment creating the offence are set out in the particulars of the offence.

(5) The forms set out in the Appendix to these rules, or forms conforming thereto as nearly as may be, shall be used in cases to which they are applicable and in other cases forms to the like effect or conforming thereto as nearly as may be shall be used, the statement of offence and the particulars of offence being varied according to the circumstances in each case.

(6) Where an information or indictment contains more than one count, the counts shall be numbered consecutively.

Statutory offences.

3. (1) Where an enactment constituting an offence states the offence to be the doing or the omission to do any one of any different acts in the alternative, or the doing or the omission to any act in any one of any different capacities, or with any one of any different intentions, or states any part of the offence in the alternative, the acts, omissions, capacities or intentions, or other matters stated in the alternative in the enactment, may be stated in the alternative in the count charging the offence.

(2) It shall not be necessary, in any count charging an offence constituted by an enactment, to negative any exception or exemption from or qualification to the operation of the enactment creating the offence.

Description of property.

4. (1) The description of property in a count in an information or indictment shall be in ordinary language, and such as to indicate with reasonable clearness the property referred to and if the property is so described it shall not be necessary, except when required for the purpose of describing an offence depending on any special ownership of property or special value of property, to name the person to whom the property belongs or the value of the property.

(2) Where property is vested in more than one person, and the owners of the property are referred to in an information or indictment, it shall be sufficient to describe the property as owned by one of those persons by name with others, and if the persons owing the property are a body of persons with a collective name, such as a joint-stock company or "Inhabitants," "Trustees," "Commissioners," or "Club" or other such name, it shall be sufficient to use the collective name without naming any individual.

(3) Property belonging to or provided for the use of a Government establishment, service, or department, may be laid as the property of the Government of Sierra Leone.

(4) Coin and bank note may be described as money, and any averment as to money, so far as regards the description of property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin or of a bank note, although the particular species of coin of which such amount was composed or the particular nature of the bank note shall not be proved; and in cases of embezzlement and obtaining money or bank notes by false pretences, by proof that the accused embezzled or obtained any coin or any bank note, or any portion of the value thereof, although such coin or bank note may have been delivered to him in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the party delivering the same, or to any other person, and such part shall have been returned accordingly.

(5) The description or designation in an information or indictment of the defendant or of any other person to whom reference is made therein, shall be such as is reasonably sufficient to identify him without necessarily stating his correct name, or his abode, style, degree or occupation, and if owing to the name of the person not being known, or for any other reason, it is impracticable to give such a description or designation, shall be given as is reasonably practicable in the circumstances, or such person may be described as "a person unknown".

5. Where it is necessary to refer to a document or instrument in an information or indictment, it shall be described by a name or designation by which it is usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out a copy thereof.

Description of document.

6. Subject to these rules, it shall be sufficient to describe a place, thing, matter, act or omission whatsoever to which it is necessary to refer in an information or indictment on ordinary language in such a manner as to indicate with reasonable clearness the place, time, thing, matter, act omission referred to.

General rule relating to description.

Statement of intent. 7. It shall not be necessary in stating any intent to defraud deceive or injure a particular person, where the enactment creating the offence does not make an intent defraud, deceive, or injure a particular person an essential ingredient of the offence.

Charge of previous conviction. 8. Where a previous conviction of an offence is charged in an information or indictment it shall be charged at the end of the information or indictment by means of a statement that the defendant has been previously convicted of that offence at a certain time and place without stating the particulars of the offence.
